The final step to relocating Broadway in Venice under the new railroad underpass was taken yesterday as the Illinois Department of Transportation awarded a contract for the work to Kern Construction Co. and S. E. Minority Contractors, Inc., of Alton.

Schools closed by ice, sleet

Public and parochial schools in the Quad-Cities closed today as the area remained in the grip of an icy wave of sleet, freezing rain and snow.

Orsaults Tuesday afternoon and last night coated earlier snow with ice.

Weather predictions this morning forecast more freezing rain and sleet today, gradually changing to snow during the day with the possibility of up to four inches or more of new snow before diminishing tonight.

Wednesday night's glacial rain created more problems for the superintendents of the three local school districts, who had occasion to attend the same meeting last evening to make a joint decision to shut down schools in the three communities today.

Asked about the prospect of schools opening Friday, all three school officials said, "We are playing it by ear." Superintendents B. J. Davis of Granite City, John Palech of Madison and John O. Pier of Venice urged students and parents to listen to snow watch bulletins to be broadcast tonight and early Friday morning over radio stations KMOX, KSD, KXOX, WRTH and WGNL.

By 9 a.m. today, Supt. Davis reported a total of 120 phone calls to his office seeking information about Friday's school schedule, and "we can't even give them an answer at the present time," he commented. The Granite City District is in "desperate shape" in relation to school closing days, with only

Weather prevents visit by governor

BULLETIN
The governor's visit was cancelled this afternoon due to bad flying weather.

Gov. Dan Walker will hold his first accountability session of 1974 in Granite City tonight.

The session will begin at 7 p.m. at the Granite City High School-North, Maryville Road and Route 200.

Two accountability sessions have been held each month by the governor to permit citizens to ask Gov. Walker directly about the conduct of state government. The Granite City session, the 19th in the series, will be held at 7 p.m. today.

Gov. Walker since he took office last January, was rescheduled from late November because of the governor's illness.

(Gov. Walker said: "I am pleased that I can begin my second year in office by meeting with the people of the Granite City area. I regret having had to postpone earlier meetings.")

"I am looking forward to meeting as many of you as possible. I want to hear from you, first hand, how the state of Illinois can serve you best."

He said yesterday he hopes to be able to make many of the announcements regarding highway construction and Dobrey Slough area drainage.

QUAD-CITY COLLEGE SERVICES were the topic of a meeting of 50 persons yesterday afternoon at the local YMCA. Speakers included President H. H. Begin college planning

It will be July 1 before the Quad-Cities formally become part of the Belleville Area College district, but planning was launched here yesterday for a meeting of 50 persons at the local YMCA.

The college will set up an administrative office in the Quad-Cities if there is a sufficient volume of activity. Pres. Haberecker noted.

With its area to grow from 675 to 2,100 square miles and its population from 100,000 to 350,000, BAC will see its assessed valuation rise to more than a billion dollars. "You are not bailing us out of financial trouble, because we are not in trouble. We have made a point of remaining fiscally responsible since the college was started in 1946. We are opposed to deficit financing," the gathering was told.

"The assessment growth indicates we no longer will qualify for equalization aid," Dr. Haberecker noted.

"However, it will give us a secure base, which is important to all taxpayers."

The treasurer told council members that the fund transfers approved Monday night leaves the city only $221,325 in its working cash fund.

"It is imperative that a meeting be held to discuss the financial condition of the general fund as soon as possible," Rutledge told the council.

Finance outlook is bleak

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Granite City is broke and faces a critical fund shortage during the first half of this year. City Council members were told Monday night as City Treasurer Paul Rutledge urged finance officials to meet "as soon as possible" to consider the problem.

Rutledge told the aldermen that their action in Monday night's meeting transferring $38,128 from the state income tax fund and $72,416 from the sales tax fund for general operating purposes "completely depletes those reserve funds."

In other actions related to the city's financial dilemma, the council enacted an ordinance amending the 1973-74 budget and delayed payment of $106,135 to the Fins P. Ernest Co., an East St. Louis contracting firm that has been repairing sewer breaks in the Nameoki area.

The budget amendment projects expenditures of approximately $800,000 as an addition to the city's original budget of $5.5 million approved last July. While this will bring the total 1973-74 budget well past the $6 million mark, Rutledge said some additional amendments decreasing expenditures in several accounts are to be made later.

The treasurer told council members that the fund transfers approved Monday night leaves the city only $221,325 in its working cash fund.

"It is imperative that a meeting be held to discuss the financial condition of the general fund as soon as possible," Rutledge told the council.

"It is imperative that a meeting be held to discuss the financial condition of the general fund as soon as possible," Rutledge told the council.

Although the city receives monthly allocations of state income taxes and sales taxes, the projected revenue from these sources during the remainder of the current fiscal year "will leave the city about $200,000 short of meeting expenditures based on projected appropriations," Rutledge told the council session.

"He said that the city may borrow from the working cash fund to meet immediate operating costs, but that the city is required by state law to reimburse the working cash fund for all monies borrowed before the fiscal year ends."

"Under present conditions I'm not so sure we can do that," Rutledge said.

The ordinance amending the city budget provides for increasing expenditures in 14 city accounts, with the largest addition in the provisions for maintenance of sewerage.

The original appropriation of $800,000 for repairs to broken sewer lines is increased by the budget amendment to $1,100,000.

The sewer breaks are the primary cause of the city's financial problems, since the city has had to advance more than $1 million to pay for repairs thus far, while reimbursements of government flood disaster funds have amounted to only $150,000.

The amendment also increases salaries for street department workers from the original budget figure of $222,081 to a new figure of $272,081, an increase of $50,000.

Mayor Paul Schuler said that an error was made in calculating projected salaries for that department when the original budget was prepared.

The budget for gas and oil purchases in the street department was increased from

Police seek woman for check frauds

Granite City police investigators are searching for a woman, about 32 or 33 years of age, who opened a check at a Granite City bank

Dec. 28 with $20 and in a three-day span wrote checks for merchandise worth $1,972.

The checks, ranging in value from $74 to $624, were cashed at seven stores between Dec. 28 and Dec. 31. Victims are Hudson's and Walker's jewelry stores, Grant City, C.M.C. Stereo Center, K-Mart, the Target store and Central Hardware.

The girl was described as about 5 foot, 3 inches tall, weighing about 120 pounds, blond and wearing glasses. Her fingernails were described by witnesses as "chewed to the quick."

On at least one occasion when she wrote a check, she was with a man about 6 feet tall, of medium build, about 36 years of age and having black hair.

She opened the account with identification papers stolen Dec. 8 from the truck of Kenneth Walton, New Athens, parked at Kirkpatrick Homes.

The checks written have been signed either Mrs. Kenneth Walton or Margaret Walton.

Detectives emphasized that the real Walton family is not involved in the scheme.

This police composite photograph shows a woman about 32 years of age who opened a checking account here with $20 and has written to date checks worth $1,972. The checks bear the name of a woman from whom identification cards were stolen Dec. 8, Mrs. Kenneth (Margaret) Walton of New Athens. The real Mrs. Walton is in no way involved in the scheme, investigators said.

City will form 3 Police divisions

Extensive revision of the Granite City Police Department—including establishment of three operational divisions and merger of the traffic division with the patrol division—was approved by the City Council after only brief discussion in regular meeting Monday night.

The council approved unanimously, with three members absent, a 10-point recommendation of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners with only one departure from an earlier recommendation made by the fire and police board in mid-December.

Chief of Police Ronald Veiser welcomed the action and told the council, "Because of your action here tonight you will soon see highly improved efficiency in the operation of the police department."

The first three points of the recommended changes will (1) establish the rank of lieutenant colonel to replace the existing position of assistant chief; (2) eliminate the position of chief of detectives; and (3) establish three captains rank, one of which will be filled by the present chief of detectives.

Point four of the new program establishes three operational divisions—investigative, patrol and services, with command assignments for each division to be made by the police chief from the rank of captain.

Other revisions include (5) increase the number in the rank of sergeant from four to nine; (6) eliminate the police dogs; (7) merge the existing traffic division into the patrol division created under point four of the recommendations.

All seven of these recommendations will be implemented Feb. 1, Alderman Gerald Parmley, chairman of the Police Committee and the may make "buys" and pay informants, and expediting of plans for construction of a new police station "designed to maximize effective and efficient use of space, utilities, security and parking."

A ten-point program to restructure the police department first was recommended by the fire and police board in a council meeting Dec. 17, but council action was delayed to give the finance and police committees an opportunity to check cost factors.

Several council members also objected to one phase of that

New Dobrey bids may be rejected

Efforts to obtain an acceptable bid for the construction of an interim drainage line for Dobrey Slough failed for the fourth time Tuesday as the state received only one bid which is almost certain to be rejected.

The bid was by C. D. Peters Construction Co. of Granite City, this time for $145,545, or about 60 per cent above the state estimate of just over $90,000.

Leon Winn, engineer of construction, "designed and operations for the state Division of Waterways, told the Press-Record after the bid was opened that he intends to recommend that the bid be rejected.

The recommendation will be made to Leo Esel, new director of the Division of Waterways, and an announcement of final rejection is expected in about two weeks by Langhorne Bond, secretary of the state's Department of Transportation.

It is not known if the new failure to receive an acceptable bid will mark the end of hopes for the interim drainage line, or whether a decision will be reached to try again, but it is evident that citizen efforts to break a bottleneck blocking the project have been unsuccessful.

The state has appropriated $150,000 for the drainage line, but DOT routinely rejects all bids exceeding the estimate of the state engineers by more than 5 per cent.

The interim line was designed to relieve a high water table in the Dobrey Slough area until permanent relief can be provided by the Hillside Drainage program. Hillside Drainage is several years away, officials have predicted.

"Dobrey Slough residents say the high water table is causing extensive damage to their homes and has created a hazard to health."

In the third round of bidding,

Man loses legs

A Granite City man lost both his legs in a freak accident at the Most American, Inc. treating plant at Washington Avenue and Race Street in Madison on 3:50 p.m. Monday.

Plant officials said Phillip Manning, 28, of 404 Kirkpatrick Homes, a laborer, was riding on a moving railroad car car moved toward a switch where another car was stationary.

At the switch, the tracks became closer together and Manning was crushed between the two cars. Plant officials speculated his legs were caught across a rib on the side of a railroad car and were nearly severed there. Both legs had to be removed above the knees at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

The accident occurred as a mobile crane was moving several cars toward a switch.

Why Manning was on the car or why the cars rolled toward the switch instead of stopping sooner are questions being studied by company officials, it was disclosed.

The incident was the first serious accident at the Moss American plant here in 306 days. The plant produces cross ties for railroads.

Manning had been employed there since Dec. 6. He

End of controls urged to aid jobs and prosperity

The Illinois State Chamber of Commerce yesterday urged the Nixon administration to immediately end all Phase I price controls, with the exception of "reasonable controls on petroleum products."

The recommendation was contained in a wire to the Cost of Living Council and all members of the Illinois Congressional delegation from Lesig W. Brann Jr., president of the 19,000-member statewide business organization.

"Illinois must be relieved of the wrenching impact of the economic stabilization policy pursued by the federal government since 1971," Brann said.

"Early termination of controls was one of our primary recommendations to the Cost of Living Council more than a year ago. Subsequent experience reinforces that recommendation, and the need for an immediate return to a free economy as a national responsibility."

Brann added, "For too long, we have underrated the capacity of our economy to self-adjust. The supply and demand features of a free market must be allowed to return to normal."

"Prosperity cannot be manufactured without the free flow of goods and services. Moreover, national priorities must be realigned to meet the energy crisis."

"Economic dislocations caused by production cutbacks, reduced profits and accompanying unemployment caused by the energy problem should be our primary concern."

More mail being sent on fast freight trains

Although most bulk mail still travels by highway truck, the U.S. Postal Service's fuel conservation program has resulted in increased use of fast freight trains, according to Richard Koenigs, director of the Logistics Division of the Postal Service's Central Region headquarters in Chicago.

"Prior to the energy crisis, when volumes of bulk mail exceeded normal amounts hauled by highway contractors' trucks, truck runs would be used to handle the added load," Koenigs said.

"Since the crisis, these loads are placed in vans and loaded back on fast freight trains," he has advised Quad-City post offices.

More hearings on atom safety

Congressman Melvin Price, chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, has announced scheduling of the continuation of the committee's public hearings on nuclear reactor safety Jan. 22-24 in Room 5407 of the U.S. Capitol in Washington.

The committee recessed its hearings on safety in October to await the Atomic Energy Commission's decision concerning design criteria for a nuclear safety system.

The AEC completed this action on Dec. 28 and issued its rule-making decision on acceptable criteria for the Emergency Core Cooling Systems for nuclear power plants.

The hearing will cover the Commission's decision and remaining matters concerning reactor safety.

The committee will consider the implications of the decision in terms of potential impact on the power supplies of the nation, Cong. Price said.

Fire house site rejected

An ordinance that would have finalized city purchase of a site for a new fire station at Johnson Road and Richmond Avenue was voted down by the City Council Monday night as a result of objections by residents in the neighborhood.

A roll call vote on final passage of the ordinance was six in favor and four against. However, a minimum of eight votes was necessary to approve the measure. Four aldermen were absent at the time the vote was taken.

In early December the council voted to buy the site on the northwest corner of Johnson Road and Richmond Avenue at a cost of $12,000 for construction of a firehouse that would replace the present Nameoki Road station.

In subsequent council sessions, delegations of neighborhood residents objected to the location of the station, maintaining the building would lower property values. As a result, Alderman Emerald Dawes and Ronald Coleman of the ward in which the station would be built, protested the purchase on the council floor.

Efforts by proponents of the Johnson Road site to suspend the rules to place the purchase ordinance on final passage were blocked in a ruling Dec. 26. The bill was placed on first reading at that time and offered for second reading and final passage Monday night.

Voting against the purchase were Aldermen Walter Nonn, Slave Basarich, Gerald Parney and Roy Paulsen. Voting in favor were Aldermen Clyde Boyd, Claude Green, Sam Whitmer, Everett Morlen, R. E. Robertson and Frank Greenwood.

Absent were Dawes, Coleman, William Dallas and Earl Baker.

In other action the council approved by a narrow margin an ordinance establishing a new purchasing system under which city employees will need to obtain requisitions from the city clerk's office to make purchases.

A motion to approve the ordinance, which had been on first reading, received a 7 to 3 vote on the council floor and carried only when Mayor Paul Schuler cast his vote in favor of the bill. A minimum of eight votes was needed to enact the ordinance. The mayor is allowed to vote only in instances in which his vote decides an issue.

The controversial issue was backed by Alderman Parney, chairman of the council's finance committee, who amended the ordinance in Monday's session to set a $25 as the amount up to which purchases could be made without requisitions, and $300 as the amount of purchases that could be made without requisitions in the event of an emergency.

Voting against the measure were Aldermen Nonn, Basarich and Robertson. In favor were Greenwood, Green, Boyd, Morlen, Whitmer, Parney, Robertson and Schuler.

from state aid and 18 per cent from the property tax base, the remainder coming from tuition, grants and service charges.

He said that all actual needs will be met if BAC finds it is capable of doing so effectively. He added that there will be no departure from the objective of quality education.

Although much new territory will be added July 1, 1974, it will be a full year after that before rates and levies have been determined and property taxes collected. Dr. Haberaecker pointed out.

There already is a BAC inhalation therapy class in cooperation with St. Elizabeth Hospital, Granite City, with a federal grant application submitted for an emergency medical technician course, it was reported.

Further new Quad-City classes are to be started in January 1975, or possibly September 1974 if planning can be completed in time, the president said.

He voiced doubt that the demand will require a separate nursing program here, and said BAC will provide help in recruiting night-duty nurses. He urged that school, industrial and other leaders and citizens relay requests and suggestions to Wissore at Extension 242, 1-235-2700.

Dr. Haberaecker said local freshmen at Lewis and Clark Community College and other junior colleges may complete their sophomore year without transferring to BAC and without financial penalty if they request authorization.

New college students wishing to attend BAC this summer may start in June even though the annexation date is July 1, he said.

"We're not going to put local school people out of business. We want to supplement their services, and will meet with principals and counselors Feb. 21," Dr. Haberaecker said.

Many administrators of BAC and the Granite City, Venice and Madison school districts were present and became acquainted yesterday.

Moderator was George T. Wilkins Sr., former state superintendent of public instruction and new chairman of the Community College Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce. He was introduced by Attorney Leo H. Konzen, retiring chairman of the committee.

Mrs. Ruth Knapp is club hostess

"How and When to Water Plants" was the topic of a speech presented to members of the Cloverview Garden Club Tuesday evening by the club's president, Mrs. Howard Bradley, during a monthly meeting held at the home of Mrs. Ruth Knapp, 3301 Harvard Place.

Plans were made to have a club brunch on May 14 at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues. Members also voted to combine their 1974 Christmas party with other area garden clubs.

Other members in attendance included Mrs. Fred Orr, Mrs. John Jenkins, Mrs. Harold McCauley, Mrs. John Lentz and Mrs. John Gardiola.

New pastor at Grace Baptist

The Rev. William L. Duval of Cabot, Ark., this week has assumed the duties of pastor at Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St. He succeeds the Rev. Louis Brinker, who has accepted a pastorate in the Paducah, Ky. area.

Prior to coming here, the Rev. Duval was pastor of the Mount Carmel Baptist Church in Cabot, a post he held from April 1968.

Born in Lake Village, Ark., the minister received his high school education in the Atkins (Ark.) Public Schools system and his normal education at Compton Junior College, Compton, Calif. Little Rock University and Missionary Baptist Seminary, both in Little Rock, Ark., and Faith Evangelistic Bible College in Morgantown, Ky. Under his leadership, the Mount Carmel Church has ranked among the top 50 in baptisms of the 1,190 Southern Baptist churches in Arkansas since 1969.

The Rev. Duval, his wife, Marilyn, and their son, Todd, arrived in Granite City during the weekend. He preached his first sermon from the Grace Baptist Church pulpit Sunday.

The family is residing at the parsonage, 3208 Harvard Place. During the Rev. Brinker's tenure here, the former pastor led the church in a successful bus ministry. The average attendance at Sunday school has increased about 30 per cent under his leadership, church officials noted.

St. Peter's Guild gives to CROP

Clothing and school kits for donation to CROP, a worldwide church administered program designed to help alleviate hunger and deprivation, were brought by members of the Women's Evening Guild to a meeting Monday at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

The donations are contributed by individual members, with the gifts collected by CROP representatives in the spring months and added to items from other church groups, it was explained.

In other business, three new members were inducted into the guild in a ceremony conducted by Mrs. Joyce Matson. The newcomers are Mrs. Beatrice Rittenhouse, Mrs. Marcia Buenger and Mrs. Antoinette Lynch.

Mrs. Dorothy Kinney, president, announced an original "chalk-talk" program will be presented by guest artists at the guild's Feb. 4 meeting.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ruth Huxley and Mrs. Genevieve Grady. Games were played during a social hour and several prizes were awarded.

JOHNNY POLZIN, whose dance music will be heard at the American Cancer Society's "Mardi Gras Ball" on Saturday, Feb. 23 at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant ballroom in East Alton. The benefit event is open to the public.

Polzin to play at Mardi Gras Ball

The big band sound of Johnny Polzin will echo through the ballroom at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant in East Alton on Saturday evening, Feb. 23, for the annual "Mardi Gras Ball" of the American Cancer Society.

Invitations for the ball will be mailed this month, organizers said. Anyone wishing to attend may call the Madison County Cancer Unit office at 523 Henry St., Alton, 1-465-7821.

Johnny Polzin sings, plays saxophone and clarinet and has a personality that wins friends wherever he appears, ball sponsors said.

Over the years, he has had numerous successful engagements at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel, the Casa Loma and Starlight ballrooms and on the Steamer Admiral, where he still performs on the night excursions.

He also has performed at Lake Delavan, Wis., the Plantation Club in Houston, Tex., and the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel in St. Louis where he is music director.

The orchestra leader has "bucked" many famous stars who have appeared in St. Louis, such as Robert Goulet, Jimmy Durante, Sophie Tucker, Barry Ashton and the Freddie Aguilar reviews.

In recent months, he and his orchestra have appeared in the Music Room at Breckenridge Ramada Inn at Fenton, Mo., with Jerry Vale, George Geibel, Buddy Greco, Marilyn Maye and Gordon McCrae. He has arranged and conducted several Frank Sinatra shows presented in St. Louis.

As music director at the Chase-Park Plaza, Polzin produces shows for conventions and backs current entertainers who appear at these performances.

The Polzin band also has performed at Tan-Tar-A and the Lodge of the Four Seasons in Missouri. Ozarks and on television shows over KSD-TV, KTVI and KPLR-TV. On the latter station Polzin has presented the "Variety Club Telethon" the past few years.

Proceeds from the annual "Mardi Gras Ball" are used to aid cancer patients in the Madison County area and helps support research projects funded by the American Cancer Society to find a cure for the disease.

The affair is open to the public and further information may be obtained by calling the Alton office.

Offices for state to be built here

A new building will be erected at 1820 Cleveland Blvd. to house two state offices—the Illinois State Employment Service and the Division of Unemployment Compensation—it was learned today.

Ground will be broken for the 5,000-square-foot office structure as soon as weather permits, State Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene said. Temporary office facilities at 1920 Edison Ave. have been utilized during planning of the new building.

A long-term lease for state use of the structure is being signed with the Three-Square Construction Corp., Granite City, by Roland W. Burris, director of the Illinois Department of General Services. The building will be assigned to the Illinois Department of Labor to provide space for the employment and unemployment staffs. Workers' offices range in number from 13 to 20.

one day remaining under the emergency closing schedule, after which state financial aid for districts not operating schools on the full 176-day mandatory calendar.

Supt. Davis said that current weather conditions—which he called the worst in 40 years—may come under legislation passed last year by the Illinois General Assembly granting special closing days over the six-day limit due to "acts of God" without loss of state financial aid.

The legislation was enacted because of serious flooding in the state, but the question presently is being debated at the state level as to whether current weather conditions could also apply.

Boiler problems which caused two schools to close down recently due to lack of heat in the buildings have been corrected, Davis said.

He noted that custodial assignments have been changed to permit personnel to be "on call" during night-time hours should malfunction in a heating plant occur.

Madison Supt. Palchick said that glazing on top of the snow today has resulted in "very hazardous walking conditions for the smaller children."

Transportation to school was the key to closing down operations today, he added.

Ice-glazed sidewalks and streets, caused by freezing rain Tuesday night and Wednesday, resulted in injuries to many persons in the area.

St. Elizabeth Hospital reported a total of 51 persons treated for various injuries received in falls Tuesday night and Wednesday. The victims ranged in age from children five to six years old to persons in their 60s.

Ten of the 51 treated were borne of them requiring casts for fractures. Others suffered head injuries, cuts and sprains. A mayor bureau official said approximately four inches of snow and sleet have fallen in the Quad-Cities since Tuesday, adding to between 24 and 25 inches of snowfall recorded during the latter part of December.

Precipitation readings at the Chain of Rocks located 88 of an inch Wednesday morning and .56 of an inch this morning.

Some offices in the Granite City Hall were closed today but the city clerk and treasurer's offices were open. The city hall offices of the Madison County Circuit Court and the courtroom also were open.

After 23 accidents in Granite City Tuesday, the number of collisions dwindled to only three Wednesday. Madison reported two accidents, and Venice and Patton streets were reported free of mishaps yesterday and overnight.

No injuries from accidents were reported in the Quad-City area yesterday.

FACES BURGLARY CHARGE George Wendell Williams, 25, of 2415 Dewey Avenue, was arrested at 4:15 p.m. Wednesday and charged with burglary in connection with theft of a television and stereo from the home of Donald Holt, 2214 Dewey Ave., Oct. 24. He was the third man arrested in connection with the investigation.

Heavy ice in the Mississippi and Illinois Rivers and the Chain of Rocks Canal is slowing barge traffic.

Dr. Stanley Hazen, dean of the SIUE School of Dental Medicine, said Tuesday the former Shurtleff College campus in Alton, now an SIUE center, may become the permanent rather than temporary site of the dental school. New buildings would be built there instead of at the main SIUE campus, he said.

Madison County sheriff deputies this week interviewed persons suspected of having information on dumping of more than 100 cars in the Mississippi River off Chouteau Island. Those questioned did not cooperate fully, deputies said. Presence of the autos in the river was discovered this fall.

Honor 'Y' kickers

More than 120 youngsters who participated in the 1973 Tri-City Area YMCA soccer program were honored with first place trophies Tuesday during a special awards banquet held in the gymnasium of Granite City High School North.

Seventeen teams of the 42 which participated in the fall program were cited for their achievements during the event which was emceed by soccer coach Bob Kehoe of North and soccer coach Gene Baker of GCHS South.

In addition to awards, the young athletes were treated to a film which featured one of the world's greatest soccer players, Pele, who demonstrated the fundamentals of the sport.

A special plaque was presented to Kent Dunn, formerly associated with the local "Y" sports program, for his contribution to the organization.

Race cars to use mufflers

More than 200 auto racing fans attended last night's 1974 Tri-City Speedway rules meeting at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn in St. Louis to discuss the use of silencers that will be used on racing cars at the local speedway to cut down on noise emissions.

The local racing plant will join the hundreds of other speedways in Illinois in the use of mufflers for the first time in the history of the state.

Canhokia loses 9th

The Canhokia Comanche cage squad, scheduled to meet the Warriors of Granite City High School tomorrow night, played a make-up game Tuesday with the East St. Louis Flyers and lost 74-46 to the East St. Louis team. Canhokia now will carry an 0-9 record against GCHS South at the local high school's gym at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Cancel competition

The eight participating teams of the Max Legate Memorial Classic bowling league canceled its games at Bowland Lanes last night because of icy road conditions.

Postpone cage clash

A sophomore cage clash between the Granite City High School South Warriors and the Canhokia Comanches, scheduled for 6:30 p.m. today, has been postponed due to icy road conditions. The announcement to school was made after the Quad-Cities since Tuesday, adding to between 24 and 25 inches of snowfall recorded during the latter part of December.

MEETING RESCHEDULED

A Right to Life and Birthright meeting scheduled today at 6:30 p.m. has been cancelled. The meeting was planned at Bethesda, set for 6:30 p.m. today, has been postponed due to icy road conditions. The announcement to school was made after the Quad-Cities since Tuesday, adding to between 24 and 25 inches of snowfall recorded during the latter part of December.

2 sweep sets

Two of the eight teams competing in the Granite City Park District women's volleyball program made a clean sweep to victory in three straight games at the Lincoln Place Center last night. The Rebel's posted winning scores of 15-2, 15-6 and 15-4, in defeating Midtown Pharmacy, and Mathew's won all of its games on forfeits when the Ruggedly Ann team failed to appear.

College basketball for women's team

Women's intercollegiate basketball begins next week at SIUE when the Cougars face Principia College Monday, Jan. 14. Game time is 7 p.m. at Principia.

Although the Cougars had a losing basketball season last year in terms of game totals (4-11), their coach, Miss Barbara DeLong, believes they had a winning season in maturity and experience on the courts.

According to Miss DeLong, there are some promising players back from last year's team, and some new blood, too. All the home games will be played at the SIUE Alton center gym.

Following the opener against Principia, the team plays Greenville College Thursday, Jan. 17, at 7 p.m. at the Alton gym. Then the Cougars travel to Illinois Wesleyan University (Bloomington) Jan. 19 for an 8 p.m. contest.

Full weekend for cage fans

Five cage clashes are on tap this weekend, beginning tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. with East St. Louis Assumption at Madison High School, and at eight o'clock when Cahokia and Granite City High School South meet at South.

Saturday GCHS North will host Breese Mater Dei in an 8:15 p.m. game at the South gym. Venice will host Valmeyer at 6:30 p.m. and Madison will see action again at 6:30 p.m. contest with Edwardsville at Madison.

Of the five non-Quad City squads scheduled to meet the local cagers, only two have already had a taste of the local power, the Assumption Pioneers and Edwardsville Tigers.

Assumption lost 69-54 to the GCHS North squad and Edwardsville handed Madison its third loss of the season, 70-51, in the championship game of the Edwardsville Holiday Tournament.

The Pioneers, with a 3-5 record, will meet the Madison Trojans, who are 9-3. Assumption is fresh from a 70-48 defeat at the hands of St. Louis University. Its only returning starter from last year, Tim Pawlow, scored 13 points against GCHS North but had a game-high 22 points this week in the SLUH clash.

Complementing Pawlow on the Assumption team will be Jerome Heavens, Rodney Young, Mike Walls, and 6-3 Leonard Mikolaszuk, who is the tallest player on the East St. Louis squad.

Saturday night's Madison-Edwardsville contest should prove to be a rehash of the holiday tournament clash between the two powerhouse.

The Edwardsville Tigers should not be so cocky this time around, having had their spirits dampened by the Knights of Mater Dei 65-58, during the weekend. That loss was only the Tigers' second of the season. They now have an 8-2 record.

Tiger Greg Abart, who scored 15 points against the Trojans, recovered sufficiently from an injury to post 31 points against the Breese squad.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Page 6 Thurs., Jan. 10, 1974

On the court against Madison Saturday with Ahart, will be Dick Brown, Bruce Heisterberg, Tom Gammill and Jim Burkhardt.

All-Tournament selection Chris Stanley will spear the Trojan attack.

Following the Madison-Assumption contest Friday, two Southwestern Conference teams, GCHS South and Cahokia, meet at 8 p.m. on South's home court.

Both teams bowed out of the Carbondale cage tournament with two consecutive defeats and have yet to win ballgames this season. Both have 0-8 records.

The Warriors of South are fired up for a victory after dropping their latest contest 83-46 to Collinsville, and Cahokia's amanches lost two in a row during the weekend, 79-77 Friday to East St. Louis Lincoln, and again Saturday 88-73 at the hands of Belleville West.

Cahokia almost pulled a win out of the bag against Lincoln, leading 77-76 on a free throw by Clint Lovett, but lost its chance on fouls in the second half of the game. Cahokia was paced in scoring by Cal Neeman, who put 22 points against East St. Louis while two of his teammates, Melvin Rogers and Norman Thompson, fouled out of the contest.

Neeman posted 25 points in Cahokia's loss to Belleville. The Warriors will be led into action by Mike Martinez who has been varying anywhere from 13 to 36 points an outing.

Fouls also proved fatal to the local squad in its clash with Collinsville as Martinez, Dale Williams and Keith Gehring all went out early in the game.

A combination of good defense and limited personal fouls should give South a winning margin in its meet with the Comanches.

All-Stater Ron Henry will lead the Venice attack Saturday night against the Valmeyer Pirates. The local Red Devils are boasting a 7-2 season record after humiliating Gibault-Waterloo 83-21 this past weekend.

Venice, led by first year coach Richard Essington, has its eyes on another Class A state tournament bid.

The Pirates, carrying a 7-3 record, is considered a tough team on the boards with Randy Esker and Wayne Rohlfing averaging 13 and 12 points a game respectively.

Valmeyer, considered to be a sure runaway champion in the Charters Conference, is fresh from a 64-41 romp over Steelville. Esker tallied 30 points in that game and teammate Randy Floarke topped the point making with 23.

Assisting Henry in the Devils' effort will be J. B. Harmon, who has earned 77 points this season; Reggie Gardner with 85; Tony Sitton, who has 72; and Mike Logan with 55.

The North Stealers, now 4-4, face perhaps their toughest match of the season Saturday when they face Mater Dei-Breese on South's court.

Breese, winner of its own holiday cage tournament, is undefeated with a 10-0 record after upsetting Edwardsville 65-58 without the services of its star player, Lance Reilmann.

Reilmann, suffering from injuries as the result of two back-to-back auto accidents, scored four points against the Tigers before leaving the game in pain. The 6-4 senior had been averaging 28 points a game for the Knights.

Gary Restoff lead Breese in scoring against Edwardsville with 19 points, Kevin Voss had 13, Brian Lantry 15, Stan Holtmann four, and Don Schomaker, four.

North, plagued with foul trouble, was knocking on the back door of Belleville East this past Saturday but failed to get a foot in, losing 53-51 in a squeaker. Don Lloyd, who received a knee injury in December against Madison, saw limited action in that game and will be in the lineup against Breese.

"Lloyd is progressing slowly," says coach Bill Ostendorf. "I would say he is about 70 per cent recovered."

With Lloyd on the court with Schmede, both have scored in double figures for the Stealers—the local North team should provide Breese a real challenge.

Cary Simpson, Greg Gauen and Daryl Page are the likely starters to round out North's squad.

Tuesday evening's Okawville-Madison game had to be rescheduled for Thursday, Jan. 17, because of icy road conditions. Other Southwestern Conference games scheduled this weekend are Belleville East at Alton and Collinsville at Edwardsville, both tomorrow. Saturday East St. Louis will be at Alton and Collinsville at Belleville East.

Collinsville (11-1), Alton (10-0), Edwardsville (8-2), East St. Louis (7-1) and Belleville West (6-4) are the top five teams in the Southwestern Conference.

Heading the top five in the Independent listing are Madison (9-3), Venice (7-2), Lebanon (11-2), Okawville (9-3), and St. Paul of Highland (8-4). GCHS North (4-4) stands in ninth position.

Ice storm here dampens sports

Icy road conditions Tuesday caused postponement of all scheduled sports events in the Quad City area. The varsity cage clash between Madison and Okawville was called off and rescheduled for Thursday, Jan. 17.

Junior High School basketball competition at Madison and Prather also had to be held over until a later date.

Varsity wrestling involving GCHS-North at Normandy, Mo., will be rescheduled for sometime in the near future and all Granite City Park District athletic events also were postponed. All events not immediately rescheduled will be held later with the time and date to be announced.

Winning Cougars resume activity

SIUE wrestlers will return to action tonight and tomorrow in the Northwest Missouri State tournament at Maryville, Mo. "We must be living right," Larry Kristoff, SIUE coach, said after his Cougars had won two dual meets last weekend to up their record to 6-0. "If I was a betting man, I would have lost my socks. I didn't think we had a chance to win both matches."

His pessimistic attitude stemmed from the fact that the Cougars were forced to forfeit in the 118-pound weight in both matches. Doug Lee failed to make his weight.

Despite that handicap, Kristoff's grapplers still managed to edge Central Oklahoma State University 22-20 and defeat Western Illinois U., 28-18.

REAL GEMS—Three star members of the Arkansas Gem basketball squad, from left, Elvera "Pepp" Neuman, Judy Delrich, Marli Witt, will lead their nationally-known team into action Tuesday against the men's faculty of Granite City High School South at 8 p.m. at the South gym. Having played in all 50 states, as well as overseas, the world championship group enters the local clash with a record of 161 wins of their last 163 games. Student and adult advance tickets will be available at tomorrow's South vs. Cahokia basketball game and again Saturday night during the Camera Club dance at the South high school.

North, South matmen plan rugged weekends

Both Granite City high school wrestling squads are slated for back-to-back mat action this weekend as the South Warriors travel to Belleville East at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow and then engage in a double dual at Pekin Saturday with the host school and Carl Sandburg at 1 p.m.

The North Stealers clash at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at Collinsville and play host to Assumption of East St. Louis at 1 p.m. Saturday.

South, seeking its 53rd, 54th and 55th consecutive dual match victories, closed the Belleville East 27-12 last year. The East Lancers recently captured fourth place in the Granite City Holiday Classic at which it produced a 145 pound individual champion, Bob Baldwin. Baldwin will be matched with Warrior Dave Rushing.

Comprising the remaining Warrior classes will be 98 pounds — Woody Halbrook; 105 — Steve Garland; 112 — Pat MacMillan; 119 — Kevin Page; 126 — John Niebur; 132 — Don Heath; 138 — Dan Heath; 155 — Ken Nolen; 167 — Brian Wilson, and heavyweight Jerry Patterson.

Pekin, sixth place winner in South's tournament, also had an individual champion, 185 pounder Jay Hangartner. He will be paired Saturday with Warrior John Avedisian. Pekin dropped a 29-14 decision to the Warriors last year at the host school. Sen's last edged Carl Sandburg of Orland Park, 26-17, last year at Pekin.

The Stealers of North will be seeking their sixth and seventh consecutive wins when they pair off with Collinsville and Assumption. North had been scheduled to meet Normandy, Mo., Tuesday, but that meet was postponed due to bad weather and is to be rescheduled.

Collinsville is considered to be the overhorse of the two North opponents. The Kahois recently defeated Cahokia and East St. Louis.

Assumption, although strong in some weight classes, has yet

Cougar five wins 101-78

In its first home basketball game of 1973-74, SIUE last night crushed the Quincy College Hawks 101-78, with Keith McFarland dropping in 23 points, John Strubberg 18 and Leon Wright 17.

Now 5-5 for the season, the Cougars moved to a 47-38 halftime lead before increasing their scoring pace in the late going.

Underclassmen downed

The freshmen and sophomore cagers of Granite City High School South dropped a dual clash to Collinsville Monday after both squads suffered from too many fouls. The Warrior freshmen lost 82-52 and the sophomore squad went under 79-38.

Dave Rhodes tallied 11 points for the frosh squad but had to sit out most of the game due to a foul trouble. Paul Evans had a game-high 15 points, but he too was walking the borderline on fouls. Keith Champion and Eldon Warfield both were lost to infractions in the first half of the game.

Sophomore Rich Fancher was held to only two field goals in the latter contest. Ken Nolen put in six points before fouling out. Joe Ingram led the point making with 14 points while committing four personal fouls.

Fuchs to head judo classes here

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Staff Writer

Leonard Fuchs III, 20, of 2404 Angela Dr., began his participation sports as a young wrestler with the local YMCA and went on to excel in the sport until illness forced him to retire from wrestling while a junior at Granite City High School South Today, the local youth is a "shodan" (first degree black belt) in judo and an instructor of the sport at the local YMCA where he got his start.

Warrior Coach William Schmitt remembers, "Len was a very capable wrestler," the head high school mentor told the Press-Record. "As a sophomore he captured both the district and sectional championships and qualified for the state meet."

"Tragedy marred a brilliant career in wrestling," Schmitt continues, "when a physical illness forced Len to retire from wrestling in his junior year while undefeated in 11 matches."

His physical impairment did not stop him from competing in a sport which is closely related to wrestling—judo.

A student at Florissant Valley Community College in Missouri, where he is studying law enforcement, he recently placed third in the Junior College National Judo Championships and fifth in the YMCA National Open. Fuchs also has won several matches in AAU National competition under the tenure of Coach Robert Whelan.

"A dependable and dedicated athlete," says Whelan, "Len is a great asset to the sport."

Fuchs will begin his judo sessions at the local "Y" on Monday for boys and girls from the first to 12th grade levels, and for adults over 18 years of age.

BLACK BELT JUDO EXPERT Leonard Fuchs III now is an instructor at the Tri-City Area YMCA and a competitor in national judo competition.

With Spalding of Pontoon Beach will be among those to be honored Saturday during the St. Louis Auto Racing Fan Club's seventh annual Banquet of Champions at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville.

Spalding piloted his late model stock car to another track championship this past season at Tri-City Speedway near Mitchell and at Lakehill Speedway, Valley Park, Mo.

In addition to the 12 championship awards to be presented, the prestigious Dale Mueller Memorial Media award and the Curt Lehman Memorial Sportsmanship award will be given to an individual or individuals who have been outstanding in support of auto racing.

Tickets for the event will be available at the door but those planning to attend are urged to make reservations by calling 233-6781.

Try to break tie

The Granite City squad of the MacClair Ice Hockey Association will attempt to move out of its third place tie with Wood River when the local team clashes with Belleville at 1:10 a.m. Saturday at the Wilson Park Ice Rink.

Granite City earned a tie for third in the point standings by virtue of last weekend's 7-0 victory over Collinsville. Collinsville presently is in a last place tie with Belleville.

Wood River dropped its weekend contest 4-3 to undefeated Alton, and the second place team Assumption, retained its position with a 6-0 shutout of Belleville.

Preceding the Granite City-Belleville clash will be a 10:20 p.m. confrontation between Assumption and Wood River, and a 11:45 p.m. contest involving Collinsville and Alton, both games are on Friday.

A victory by the local squad this weekend and a loss by Wood River would leave Granite City all alone in the number three spot. A loss by both teams would result in both still in the third place deadlock. Granite City could drop down to the fourth position if Wood River should win and the local team suffers a loss.

Joseph Gonzalez dance Feb. 8

The fourth annual dance to benefit the Joseph Gonzalez Scholarship Fund will take place at 8:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 8 at the Venice-Madison American Legion Hall in Venice, under sponsorship of the Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City.

A goal of $1,000 has been set for the 1974 fund raising campaign to award two $500 scholarship grants to Granite City students, according to Steve Ortiz, commission president and dance chairman. The fund was established in memory of Joseph Gonzalez, a Granite City High School teacher who died in a traffic accident on June 17, 1970. Mr. Gonzalez was a member of the Mexican Honorary Commission.

Plans for the public dance were reviewed at a meeting this week at the Jaycee Clubhouse. Tickets currently are on sale, costing $1.50 each, at the Venice-Madison American Legion; Tri-City Bicycle Shop in Madison; Mendoza Sporting Goods, 2740 Madison Ave.; and

Officer Friendly to address PTA

Officer Friendly Roy Koberna of the Granite City Police Department will be the speaker at the Frohardt PTA meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Officer Koberna will present a movie entitled "Lucky Beware" which will illustrate self-protection techniques for women.

Women especially will be shown how to protect themselves at night or day and when the need arises. Following the movie and discussion a question and answer session will be held, according to Mrs. Janet Wilson, president. No children will be allowed at the PTA meeting.

The couple is residing in O'Fallon after a honeymoon trip to Las Vegas, Nev., where they were guests of Dr. and Mrs. John Baldorf. Mrs. Baldorf is a niece of the bridegroom.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her son, Dale Craycraft, of Granite City. She chose a full length gown designed with a softly draped skirt of champagne chiffon and a fitted bodice of beige and silver brocade.

A lovingly hand bandied the neckline and encircled the long sleeves at the wrist, and the wore silver accessories. Her flowers were pale pink carnations fashioned into a hand corsage.

Miss Diane Andrews, the bride's daughter, was her only attendant. She selected a long gown of peach satin crepe and her flowers were green tipped carnations. She wore gold accessories.

Mr. Boatman was attended by his son, Donald Boatman, as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was given at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Edgemoor. More than 100 guests attended.

Mr. Boatman is employed at the Venture Store in O'Fallon. His husband is associated with his son in the Boatman Construction Co. of Belleville.

Miss Kristy Gelsinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gelsinger, and Donald Huckelberry, son of Mrs. Martha Huckelberry, were united in marriage at Cedar View General Baptist Church, 3700 Ruth Drive, during the weekend.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Donald Clark, pastor of the Mount Zion General Baptist Church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a full-length bouffant gown of Chantilly lace.

The bride had a square neckline and fitted waist. The tiered skirt was highlighted by overlays of lace.

The bride chose Miss Diane Fisher, a cousin, as her maid of honor. Dan Churovich was best man.

Mrs. Rose Tucker, organist, provided traditional wedding music.

A reception was held at the bride's home immediately after the ceremony.

The newlyweds flew to Hawaii, where they will make their home while the groom is in military service.

Miss Gelsinger is a granddaughter of Mrs. Nannie Howard of Breckenridge Lane.

Speakers will represent nearly every major denomination during the study course, he said. All sessions are open to interested citizens. Albrecht added.

Oil industry accused of fueling energy crisis

By DONALD C. BAUDER
Many years ago, Mark Twain defined a gold mine as a hole in the ground with a liar on the top.

Today, an increasing number of influential citizens, in and out of Washington, describe the domestic oil industry in similar terms.

Three states — Florida, Connecticut and New York — have hauled the major companies into court to face charges of illegal collusion and price manipulation.

Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Minn., castigates the industry for "runaway profits," further claiming that it is "profiting from the energy shortage."

Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., "playing 'Big Oil's' dirty tricks," declares, "The giant oil companies are displaying an absolute and total contempt for the public" by "fueling the energy crisis in an effort to get higher prices and bigger profits."

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., tugs at the heartstrings: "While Americans are getting ready to weather a winter with colder homes and fewer car miles, it is inconceivable that fellow Americans (oil companies) would export the nation's energy resources."

Such caterwauling leads other Washington officials to call for an "excess profits" tax on the oil industry.

The question is, "What excess profits?" The facts are that the oil industry in recent years has not been as profitable as other industries.

A study by First National City Bank of New York shows that from 1963 to 1972, the petroleum industry's profits as a percentage of net worth were 11.8 per cent, compared to 12.5 per cent for all manufacturing industries.

During 1973, industry profits have risen dramatically — earnings for the third quarter were up 79 per cent, and for the year to date 59 per cent.

Still, a study by the Federal Trade Commission shows that in the second quarter of 1973, the oil companies made 10.7 per cent on equity, as opposed to 14 per cent for all manufacturing.

As John G. Winger of the Energy Economics Division of Chase Manhattan Bank points out, "For the last decade and a half, the net income of the petroleum industry has been too small relative to its capital needs."

The bank points out that between 1970 and 1985, the petroleum industry needs the astonishing sum of $1.35 trillion dollars to operate at a level necessary to provide the nation with adequate energy — or, it must average annual earnings growth of 18 per cent.

And, says Winger, even in the big year of 1973, oil profits will fall short "by more than a billion dollars" of being adequate to cover needed capital expenditures.

Further, he says, next year the industry will have to earn 70 per cent more than this year, which thus far is up 59 per cent.

Recent opinion polls — such as one by Opinion Research — show that the public holds the oil industry in relatively low regard, and believes its profits are far larger than they actually are.

Politicians are baiting an uninformed public about "excess profits" of an under-profitable industry which must dramatically improve those profits to serve the aforementioned public.

And what is the oil industry doing about that? Depressingly little.

A communications specialist for the American Petroleum Institute points to the industry's inadequate earnings but laments, "The public looks at us like fat cats, rolling in money."

The institute spent $4 million two years ago on a TV advertising campaign warning of a looming energy shortage, but canceled the series after critics charged it was trying to generate a "fear psychosis."

Now the institute is running a campaign costing half as much in consumer magazines. But API president Frank Ikard admits, "Apparently we have not tried hard enough."

And the oil companies themselves? While they have wisely dropped commercials trying to drum up demand for petroleum, most of their ad dollars are spent explaining their commitment to the President's conservation program or to their new spirit of cooperation with environmentalists.

News notes

A coalition of citizen groups this week accused Gov. Daniel Walker of ignoring campaign promises to improve mental health programs and instead dismantling mental health services and causing severe understaffing.

Mrs. Daniel Ring will serve as St. Clair County clerk for the last 11 months of her late husband's term of office.

Rite Electric Co. of Granite City has begun installing a new traffic signal light system at Routes 159 and 50.

The New Madrid Fault, extending from Cairo, Ill., to Memphis, Tenn., is blamed for an earthquake which hit Southeast Missouri and Northwest Tennessee Monday night. It registered a magnitude of four on the Richter scale at St. Louis.

The Pentagon said Wednesday its attempt to find more than 1,100 U. S. servicemen missing in Indochina will continue.

The Senate Watergate committee said this week it may recommend that a President be limited to one term in office and that his chance to name his successor be drastically curtailed.

Wholesale prices rose 18.2 per cent in 1973, led by food and fuel costs.

The U. S. Supreme Court voted 5-4 Monday to limit federal use of the mail fraud law in prosecuting illegal use of credit cards.

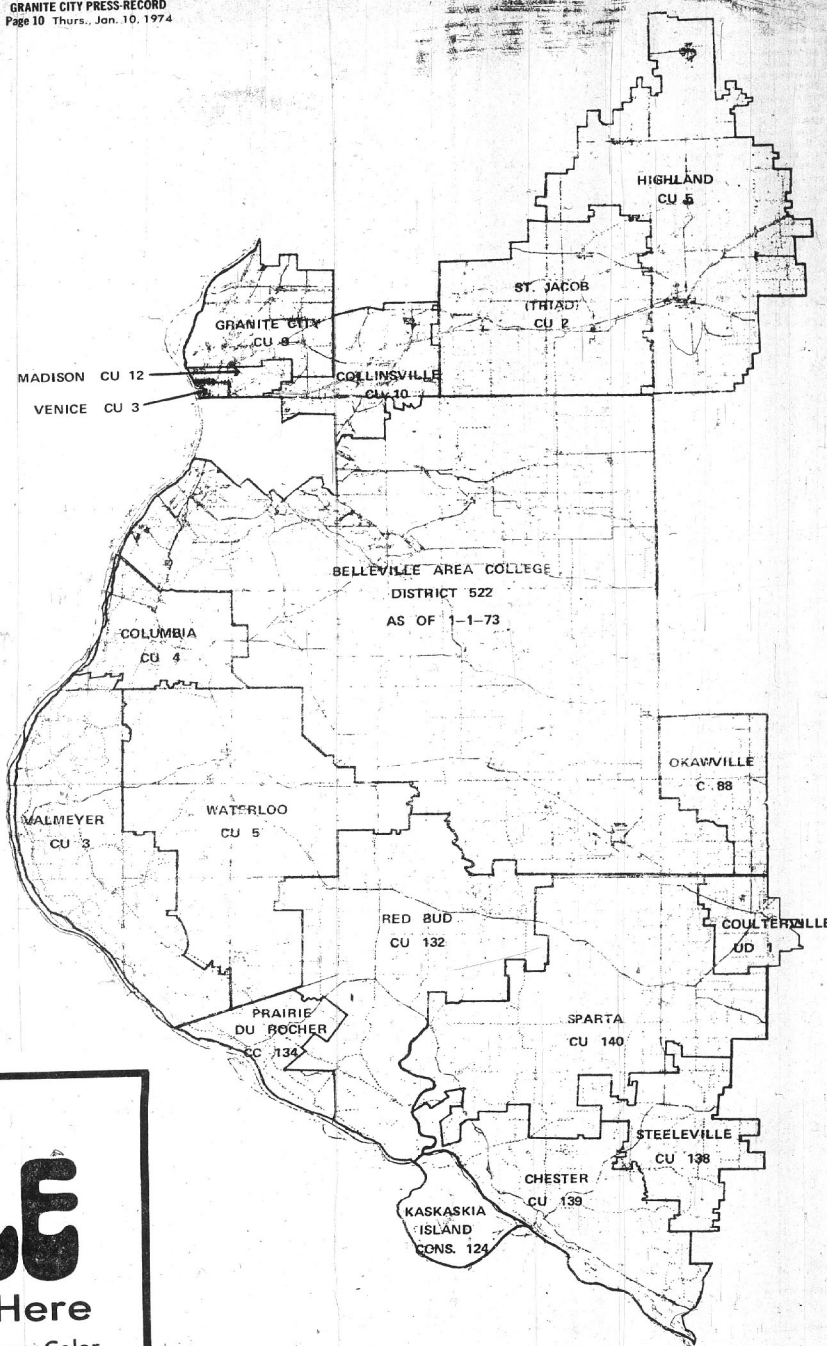

Fuel-related layoffs in the St. Louis metropolitan area now exceed 12,000.

THEFT FROM STORE

A sweater and four clothing tops were stolen from the front rack at Tops 'N' Bottoms Shop, 1343 Nineteenth St., by a man and a woman who grabbed the items at 4:30 p.m. yesterday and ran from the store where an auto and driver were waiting. The thieves fled in a 1964 white or creme colored auto west on 19th Street. The loss was estimated at $100.

Faces federal theft charge

Charles Lambert Birmingham, 69, East St. Louis, was arrested at 10 a.m. Wednesday and a federal charge of theft from mails was filed against him.

William Dalton, 1700 Delmar Ave., said a $60 voucher from the Madison County veterans' office was in the mail to him but he did not receive it. Postal authorities said a man took the document, saying he was collecting it for Dalton.

The federal Postal Inspector's office was notified and sent a representative here to investigate. Birmingham became ill while in jail here and was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Business booming in Madison County, Rotarians are told

"Madison County has more business and growing businesses than all of southern Illinois combined," Edward Meyer, senior account manager for the St. Louis office of Dun and Bradstreet told the Madison Rotary club at its Wednesday noon meeting in the Madison Recreation Center.

Meyer explained his company, the largest commercial credit reporting agency in the country, keeps credit reports on all businesses, large and small, for which they can obtain information.

He said they have representatives collecting information daily. Their files on all companies are updated at least every two months. Dun and Bradstreet services are available to any business person, Meyer explained.

Wayne Scannell informed the club that ladies night will be at Tempel's Smorgasbord on Wednesday, Feb. 13, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Scannell said the Rotary-sponsored public dance will be held April 27. Serving on the dance committee are Ray Edwards, W. F. "Mick" Strange, Anthony Sedek, and John Blasigame.

President Wade James announced that the club is being divided into five teams and the team with the best attendance each month will get a free meal once each month, paid for by the four losing teams. Team captains are Rotarians Alex Markuly, John Sedlack, Fred Schmidt, Jerry Maeras and James.

E.W. Cook dies suddenly

Mr. Cook was born in Granite City and resided in the Quad-City area 28 years. He graduated from Madison High School in 1945.

He then served in the U. S. Navy during World War II as a radioman and was recalled into the Navy during the Korean

2 police cars damaged

Two police cars were damaged on icy streets this week. At 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, Patrolman Anthony Eck, 2000 Edison Ave., was driving a patrol car at Delmar Avenue and 22nd Street where it was involved in an accident with the auto of Arthur Billick, 2660

Fourteenth St.

At 8:45 a.m. Wednesday, the city car driven by Assistant Police Chief George Teller, 2811 Sunset Drive, backed into a parked car of Larry Webb, 2807 Sunset Drive.

2 boys shot with pellets

Two boys were shot with small gauge birdshot, as they were standing in the 800 block of Niedringhaus Avenue at 8:35 p.m. Tuesday.

Brandon Scanlon, 15, of 1725 Maple St., and Henry Garcia, 13, of 1720 Spruce St., said they were on the sidewalk talking when an automobile passed and a gunshot was fired from the car.

Pellets struck Scanlon on his right chest, going through his clothing and causing about 30 small puncture wounds. Pellets also struck Garcia's neck and chest.

The boys were treated and released at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

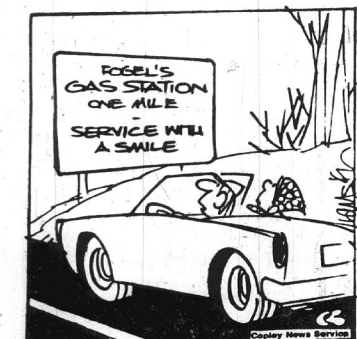

MEN BURN AUTOMOBILE

Two men were seen pushing the car of Kenneth Rushing, Fredonia, Ky., to 20th Street and Washington Avenue and setting fire to the auto at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday. The front seat and a rag in the gasoline tank inlet were set ablaze. The men then ran east on 20th Street. Granite City firemen extinguished the blaze in 20 minutes. Damage was estimated at $150.

MEETING DELAYED

The regular monthly meeting of the Venice Park Board, which was scheduled at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow, has been postponed until 7:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 18.

Three dogs killed in 2 weeks

Granite City's humane division was investigating Wednesday the third reported killing of dogs owned by Willard Bailey, 2847 Harding Ave., who said his third German Shepherd dog to be stabbed to death was killed Tuesday night. Bailey reported the first killing two weeks ago when a year-old female Shepherd dog blamed for the sudden decrease in Comet Kohoutek's brightness. "It is still a pretty sight in binoculars or a telescope," they maintain.

Viewers are encouraged to bring their binoculars to the viewing site. Near the planet Venus this week the comet will appear higher in the sky each successive evening.

He said he confined the third dog to his garage and fed it through a hole in the side of the garage. Tuesday night, someone apparently lured the dog to the hole and stabbed it in the throat, causing the animal to bleed to death, Bailey said.

REV. RAYMOND STREUTER

Missionary to be church speaker

The Rev. Raymond Streuter will share his experience as missionary to the Philippines at Central First Methodist Church, 22nd and State streets, at 7 p.m. 9 o'clock Sunday evening.

New and exciting experiences awaited Rev. Streuter when he returned to the Philippines for his fourth term of missionary service. He was assigned to pioneer a new congregation in the large city of Cagayan de Oro, an industrial and educational center.

When a rented hall became too small, plans were drawn for a new church and youth center. Under Rev. Streuter's supervision, the building was completed. A vital part of the ministry in the city has been a radio broadcast and half-hour television program produced by Rev. Streuter.

The Streuters had many experiences in the Philippines since first going to the islands in 1951. For a time they lived in a screenless, thatched-roof house with an outboard motorboat as the only means of transportation to isolated villages.

For a term they served at the Light and Life Bible Seminary in Butuan City, where Rev. Streuter taught classes and served as dean of men. He has also served as mission superintendent.

Rev. Streuter will use slides, recordings and original chalk talks with his message. The public is invited.

Mrs. Alice Cruse presents lesson

"The Three Life Determining Principles" by Charles L. Allen, taken from the book "Miracle of Love," was the devotional lesson presented by Mrs. Alice Cruse at a meeting Tuesday of Patience Circle at Nottingham United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Cruse also read "Gold Dust," a recipe for "never annoying our friends," by Charlotte M. Yonge.

The meeting followed a morning of quins and luncheon in the Pathfinder's Room at the church, Mrs. Leona Cartwright was the hostess.

Circle members will meet in February at the home of Mrs. Woodie Lynn, 2103 Monroe St. It was announced by Mrs. Ethel Lerch, leader.

Others present were Mesdames Eula Myers, Clara Solifro, Olivia Lehman and Mildred Carper.

Square dancing at park center

Square dancing sessions sponsored by the Granite City Park District will continue Saturday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Ames and Franklin avenues.

The instruction and "fun" program is open to all residents of the Granite City Park District without charge. Louis Kibort serves as instructor.

Inquiries concerning the series may be obtained by calling the Wilson Park office, at 877-3059.

MRS. SMITHSON RETURNS FROM ARIZONA VACATION

Mrs. Kathryn Smithson, 2992 E. 27th St., has returned from a three-week vacation at Phoenix, Ariz., where she was the house guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Boehm and daughters, Cynthia, Christina and Kathryn.

This local resident reported the "weather was wonderful with the children able to swim outdoors during the Christmas holidays."

Make Illinois coal usable—Gov. Walker

Addressing a joint session of the Illinois House and Senate yesterday, Governor Daniel Walker is his 1974 "state of the state" message urged ethics and energy action to remedy the fuel crisis and to bolster public confidence in government. He called for authority to issue $100 million in bonds for air pollution control programs and "cleaning" of coal, enabling major expansion in usage of the large Illinois coal reserves. Some of the bond funds would go toward improving schools and other public buildings to make them more "energy efficient," Gov. Walker said. If Illinois is chosen for a proposed $1 billion federal coal gasification project, which could go toward site acquisition and development, he told the legislators. While devoting much of his talk to energy issues, the governor also urged attention to tax relief and to increased campaign disclosure requirements. He also proposed: Rates encouraging utilities to use coal and install appropriate pollution control devices. Review of pending construction to include fuel-saving ideas. Funds for a state office to allocate heating oil and other fuels for hardship and emergencies this winter. A task force to prevent price gouging and hoarding of gasoline and other fuels. Car pools, with federal financial aid. And improved inter-city rail transportation.

Levee cutbacks Smith dividend under study

Layoffs of employees and major cutbacks in fuel usage are to be discussed by the East Side Levee and Sanitary District board of trustees in a special meeting at the East St. Louis levee district offices at 4 p.m. today. The fuel cutbacks and layoffs were proposed in a board meeting yesterday as a means of conserving energy and work force for fighting floods expected this spring. James Spanos, chief engineer, asked the board for approval of such layoffs and fuel cutbacks in anticipation of big payrolls during the spring season when flooding is expected because of the heavy snow throughout the midwest valley. Trustees William "Mike" Schell of Venice and Russell Robinson of Granite City said they expect to seek reductions in the district's guard force. The guard force cost the district $70,000 during 1973. The levee district now has a total work force of 92 employees, Spanos said. Milwaukee — The board of directors of A. O. Smith Corp. declared a regular quarterly dividend Tuesday of 19 1/4 cents per share of common stock. Payable Feb. 15, to shareholders of record Jan. 31.

Blue-gold theme at Roundtable

A mock blue and gold banquet was the theme of a Cub Scout Roundtable session held this week at St. Margaret Mary School. About 40 attended.

Conforming to a "Mardi Gras" motif, tables were decorated with placecards and games' cards illustrated with masks and balloons. Napkin rings were King Rex crowns and centerpiecees were gaily dressed clown figurines.

Mrs. Pat Shable of the Roundtable staff arranged the colorful appointments. She also reviewed the theme for February and directed games.

Ron Luebben, district vice-chairman, portrayed King Rex and introduced guests. They included David Brooks, district activities chairman, Mrs. Suzanne Brooks, district commissioner, Mark Vohling, district executive, Ted Scrum, district member-at-large, Rollin Henn, assistant council commissioner, Dr. Thomas Layloff, Uniwah District chairman, Mrs. Layloff and son, Tommy, and Mrs. Gertrude Luebben.

The pledge of allegiance was led by John and David Lingle of Johnson School's Pack 24. The invocation was given by the Rev. Robert Becker of the host church.

The Webelos' theme for next month, "Scientists," was explained by Charles Buford of Pack 141, assisted by Webelos Scout Keith Smith. Mrs. Vee Throne led group singing, including a birthday tribute to Mrs. Shable and Mrs. Luebben. Scout pins were presented by Luebben to Mrs. Barbara Davis, Robert Davis, Mrs. Kathy Lingle, Mrs. Beverly Spenneman and Mrs. Jean Byrnes. All are members of Pack 24.

Brooks said a window display contest is scheduled for "Boy Scout Week" Feb. 3 to Feb. 9. Leaders were asked to contact the local scout office to reserve window space.

Dr. Layloff discussed the "Importance of Communication in Scouting," and a "Scouter's Address," written by Mrs. Charles Smith of Pack 141 and read by Mrs. Luebben, concluded the program.

'Live Playhouses' is Lesche topic

"Live Playhouses" in the St. Louis area was the subject of a presentation made by Mrs. Kipling Pellett at a meeting Tuesday afternoon of the Lesche Literary Club.

The group met in the home of Mrs. Clyde Lester, 2729 Washington Ave. Mrs. Earl Miller, president, was in charge.

Mrs. Pellett described performances at area barn-dinner theatres and operas and at the Mississippi River Festivals, Mallinckrodt Center at Washington University, Loretto-Hilton Playhouse and the American Theatre, all in St. Louis. She also explained current activities of local theatrical organizations. Mrs. E. A. Viehl and Mrs. Bernard Miller led the pledge of allegiance and club collect to open the business session.

A Christmas tree decorated with ornaments provided by club members was received with appreciation at the Colonades Nursing Home.

"Kissinger's job isn't to bring EVERYBODY together...I'm sure Liz and Dick decided on their own!"

Partney in statement

David Partney, candidate for state representative in the 56th legislative district, today released a financial statement of his earnings, assets and liabilities, prepared by an accountant.

Partney issued a challenge to the other ten Democratic candidates to release the same type of information to the public.

Partney stated that, "There exists at the present time a crisis in confidence in public officials at all levels of government. More is required of candidates for public office than the typical run of the mill discussions of old issues."

"In order to meet these existing voter attitudes disclosure of income, assets and liabilities is necessary. Nothing less than full disclosure by all candidates will satisfy this need," the candidate said. Partney disclosed that he operates a sheet metal business in Granite City with his two brothers, Donald Partney Jr. and Daniel Partney. Granite Sheet Metal was founded by Donald Partney Sr., former mayor of Granite City.

Partney disclosed that his annual salary from Granite Sheet Metal, Inc. is $19,200. His total assets are $52,000 and his liabilities are $27,445.

Partney said, "I will be interested to see how many of my fellow candidates respond to my disclosure and invitation to them."

27 traffic mishaps on icy streets; six hurt

Ice on the streets was responsible in part for 23 accidents on Granite City streets Tuesday in which six persons were injured. Three accidents also were reported in Madison and one in Venice, but no injuries resulted in either city.

Granite City accidents included one in which the auto of Susan Mansfield, 2007 Sixth St., Madison, and an Illinois Terminal Railroad engine collided at the Edwardsville Road crossing at 9:40 p.m. Tuesday.

The driver of the auto and a passenger, George Duncan, Rural Route One, Box 345, were reported injured but did not receive hospital treatment.

The cars of Larry McFalls, 20, of 2212 Edna St., and Walter White, 2126 Dewey Ave., collided on 20th Street near Washington Avenue at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday. McFalls suffered injuries to his head, neck and both knees and was treated and released at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

David Lee Hutchings, 43, of 2260 Delmar Ave., a passenger in White's auto, was taken by ambulance to the hospital after the accident with injuries suffered when he struck his forehead on the windshield and then was thrown from the car. He had an abrasion below his left knee.

Lilly Parks, 56, of 919 Old Chain of Rocks Road, suffered injuries to both knees and a contusion and hematoma to her left lower leg. She was treated and released from the hospital of Edwardsville Road, and charged him with burglary in connection with the Holt incident. Both Woods and Welch were released on recognizance bonds.

Smith, 24, of 802 Grand Ave., Madison, was injured when their cars collided in the 1600 block of Madison Avenue at 10:10 a.m. Tuesday. McCarty suffered only minor injuries but Mrs. Smith was admitted to the hospital after being thrown from the car.

She suffered abrasions to her forehead and left elbow, a severe abrasion to her right foot and an abrasion and contusion to the right side of her back.

Arrest 2 men

Two men face felony charges in connection with the theft of a television, stereo, tools, headphones, tape recordings, record albums and records from the home of Donald Holt, 2214 Dewey Ave., Oct. 24.

Everett Eugene Welch, 32, of 2426 Dewey Ave., was arrested during the weekend on a battery complaint. Monday, while he was in the Granite City jail, officers asked for permission to search his mobile home, which Welch gave.

In the mobile home, police allege, they found a television and stereo and three plastic bags of marijuana. Charges of theft and unlawful possession of cannabis (marijuana) also were lodged against Welch.

Later Monday, officers arrested Joseph Woods, 17, of 2201 E. 20th St., in the 1300 block of Edwardsville Road, and charged him with burglary in connection with the Holt incident. Both Woods and Welch were released on recognizance bonds.

Reinstate 2 MHS students

Two Madison High School students were reinstated on probationary status in action taken at a special meeting of the Madison Board of Education Tuesday evening.

"These were a couple of young 15-year-olds who just wanted to play all the time and were not taking school seriously," Wade James, assistant superintendent of schools, said. "They repeat their actions and I think they now realize their responsibilities."

Superintendent of Schools John Palchek reported to the board that he and James were meeting regularly with the student, parent and ministerial advisory committees. A special meeting of the board and the student committee was called for 7 p.m. Monday. The regular board meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 17, at the Wenzel L. Brown building, 1707 Fourth St., Madison.

Marcia Paulett student teacher

A total of 595 Illinois State University students are beginning teaching internships in schools through the Midwest, including Marcia Paulett, 2846 Grand Ave., Granite City. She is teaching deaf and hard of hearing pupils in the Sterling-Peoria district and the Illinois School for the Deaf.

Students are usually assigned to a school for nine or 18 weeks, during which they do full-time student teaching. While there, they work while supervising teachers and literally become members of the school staff and community in which they are working. Miss Paulett has been assigned for the first portion of the second semester.

The program involves student teaching, observation, participation, studies of individual pupils and research. Class work and other campus experiences have prepared students for the internships. To qualify for teaching internships, a student in a teacher education major field must

Alaska's oil promises brighter U.S. future

By JAMES CARV
Washington Bureau Chief

WASHINGTON — When the Atlantic Richfield Co. struck oil at Prudhoe Bay on Alaska's North Slope in 1968 no one knew the size or significance of the discovery.

Today, nearly six years later and in the midst of a ballooning energy crisis, this field is recognized as the greatest oil reservoir in North America. It has an estimated 30 billion barrels of recoverable reserves.

That may be only the beginning.

The U.S. Geological Survey says the over-all oil potential on and offshore in Alaska could reach 140 billion barrels.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

plus 580 trillion cubic feet of natural gas — although most of this may not be recoverable.

Most of it also has not been discovered.

But the geological formations are favorable. So are results of seismic exploration and aerial photographs.

This leaves the United States, although currently suffering from short supplies, in a potentially highly favorable, future position compared with most oil-short nations.

Western nations now feeling the Arab embargo on Middle East petroleum exports.

With construction of the trans-Alaska pipeline now scheduled to begin next spring or summer the extent of that potential presumably will become somewhat clearer as exploration is stepped up throughout Alaska during the four-year pipeline construction period.

Besides Prudhoe Bay on Alaska's northern coast vast stores of oil are believed to exist immediately to the west in a 26-million-acre tract set aside as U.S. Navy Petroleum Reserve No. 4.

Other oil deposits may exist in the Beaufort Sea, east of Prudhoe Bay, in the Gulf of Alaska off the southern coast, perhaps in Bristol Bay to the east and still farther east in the Bering Sea.

Of these areas Navy Petroleum Reserve No. 4 or "Pet. 4" as it is commonly called, has had the closest examination.

In World War II 37 test wells were sunk in the Pet. 4 area turning up promising geological formations. The Navy estimates 15 million barrels of recoverable oil ought to be there.

After that the educated guesswork becomes much more precarious. The U.S. Geological Survey will only state that the over-all Alaska oil potential is currently estimated as follows:

Onshore — 40 billion barrels.
Offshore — 60 billion to 100 billion barrels.

Its figures on natural gas are:
Proved reserves — 26 trillion cubic feet, virtually all at Prudhoe Bay. This is 10 per cent of the total U.S. proved reserves.

Potential reserves — 680 trillion cubic feet. Seventy per cent of this is offshore and much of it at depths beyond the ability to recover with current technology. If it could be extracted this would represent 30 per cent of total U.S. potential gas reserves.

The North Slope reservoir in the Prudhoe Bay area is believed to exist in three pools covering about 670 square miles.

To tap this seven oil companies have formed the Alyeska Pipeline Service Co. It will construct the $4 billion, 48-inch-diameter pipeline, extending from Prudhoe Bay in the north to Valdez, Alaska, in the south.

The reports conclude that:

— Anabolic steroids taken by many athletes have absolutely no effect in improving weight, strength, size or body composition.

— Pain-killing drugs used to keep an athlete "in the game" can be dangerous unless administered properly after the nature of an injury has been fully diagnosed.

The steroid study caused the most stir among the physicians, coaches and trainers attending the conference because there have been conflicting reports on their value. The new report, perhaps the most scientific study of the subject, may help clear the air.

Drug study cites danger to athletes

By BOB CORBETT

Athletes who take drugs to improve their performance are not only kidding themselves but also running the risk of permanent injury or damage to their health.

This was made clear by two medical researchers in reports to the recent 15th annual national conference on the medical aspects of sports of the American Medical Association.

The reports conclude that:

— Anabolic steroids taken by many athletes have absolutely no effect in improving weight, strength, size or body composition.

— Pain-killing drugs used to keep an athlete "in the game" can be dangerous unless administered properly after the nature of an injury has been fully diagnosed.

The steroid study caused the most stir among the physicians, coaches and trainers attending the conference because there have been conflicting reports on their value. The new report, perhaps the most scientific study of the subject, may help clear the air.

Dr. Lawrence A. Golding of the Applied Physiology Laboratory at Kent State University presented the results of the study, which followed the progress of 40 weight lifters and body builders in northeast Ohio over a period of 12 weeks.

The athletes were divided into four groups, each believing it was getting a daily dose of protein and 10 milligrams of Dianabol, the steroid most commonly used by athletes.

In reality, only one group received this dosage. The second group received only protein, the third only steroid and the fourth group was given an inactive placebo.

The athletes were told to resume normal training but were carefully monitored to make sure that no extra factors were added to the picture, like a change of diet.

After 12 weeks they were retested for increased weight, strength, size and loss of fat.

Golding said the group taking both protein and steroids did show improvement in all of these areas. But so did all the other groups — even those athletes given the inactive placebo.

The differences in the groups, Golding said, were insignificant.

He attributed the physical improvements in all the athletes to a psychological effect.

Since they all knew they were being tested as part of a study, he said, they probably were more conscientious about keeping to their training programs. The results of the study, Golding said, showed that Dianabol does not improve weight, strength, size or body composition.

More immediately, he said, cortisone can mask pain enough to encourage an athlete to exceed the mechanical tolerance of a joint or tendon and thus lead to permanent injury.

Larger doses, he said, might have some effect, but the athletes would be opening themselves up to potentially dangerous liver problems.

Although Golding's report dealt only with steroids, he noted during an interview that similar studies have been made on the effect of amphetamines ("speed") that some athletes take to improve their performance.

The studies, Golding said, indicate amphetamines also fail to increase an athlete's ability.

The second report on athletes and drugs was made by Dr. James M. Glick, assistant clinical professor of orthopedic surgery at University of California, San Francisco Medical Center and team physician for San Francisco State University.

Glick warned that drugs should only be used to cure, control or relieve the pain of an athlete and "not to increase his performance."

He listed several dangers to the athlete, he noted, that certain anti-inflammatory drugs — enzymes and steroids — often do little or nothing to reduce swelling around an injury and can cause severe allergic reactions if injected.

Cortisone, a steroid often used to diminish pain, has a double danger, Glick said. Given too frequently or in excessive doses, he said, cortisone could lead to degenerative arthritis of a joint.

More immediately, he said, cortisone can mask pain enough to encourage an athlete to exceed the mechanical tolerance of a joint or tendon and thus lead to permanent injury.

LEGAL WAY

When can a will be contested?

By E. J. DEMSON, J.D.

For years you've been expecting a big inheritance from your rich uncle. But when his will is read, you find he left you only $100. If you contest the will, what proof will the court require?

A good summary of the kinds of proof required by the nation's courts in will contest cases is found in the American Law Reporter, Vol. 48, 3d, p. 967, 1973. It says that, if a will's execution is valid, the principal ground for contesting the will is that of undue influence over the maker of the will.

In an undue influence suit, it must be proved that the free and unrestricted will of the maker was overcome by someone who substituted his own control in such a way that the maker was no longer a free agent.

But the courts do not consider it "undue influence" solely because argument, advice, persuasion or solicitation were applied by someone to influence the terms of a will. Neither are kindness or affection considered undue influence, assuming no fraud is practiced, or the person's will is overcome (24 Fed 535, 538).

Evidence of the testator's failing mind or physical condition may be considered by a court.

Other survivors include one the court, but the charge to the jury is most likely to be that the testator's desires and intentions (assuming he had control over his own actions) are to be carried out.

Rites for Poudras infant

Private funeral services were held today for Paula Jo Poudras, the infant daughter of Nicholas and Janet Poudras of 2522 Madison Ave., who died at 5:30 a.m. today at St. Elizabeth Hospital. She was born at 5:17 a.m. today.

Other survivors include one sister, Tammy Poudras, and one brother, James Poudras, both of Granite City; maternal grandparents, Arthur and Pauline Dunn, Patton, Mo.; paternal grandmother, Mrs. James Poudras of Greece.

Details of services are given in the obituary column.

Garbage may help heat more cities

By BENJAMIN SHORE

WASHINGTON — The federal government is encouraging cities to burn their garbage to generate electricity and warm buildings, a technological advance that would reduce the need for coal and eliminate garbage dumps, landfills and incinerators.

The effort by the Environmental Protection Agency comes at a time when many government and industry experts are warning the public to expect some environmental backsliding as a result of the energy crisis.

Proposals to burn garbage in steam generators for electric utilities and heating systems would solve part of the environmental problem posed by oil and coal burning and garbage disposal.

Most garbage today is buried in a sanitary landfill, far less damaging to the environment than the old-fashioned dump. However, most urban areas — where 74 per cent of the American people live — are running out of space for even the functional landfills.

Thus the technology is opportune for shredding residential garbage and burning it to make steam which drives turbines that generate electricity.

In St. Louis, a pilot plant, with two-thirds of the cost paid by the federal government, is generating electricity from garbage mixed with pulverized coal, which can be supplemented by natural gas.

Shredding and transporting the garbage to the plant is costing the city $5 per ton. Burning the garbage in an incinerator used to cost $7 per ton.

New York City and its main electric utility, Consolidated Edison, recently agreed to feasibility studies of modifying a Con Ed boiler on Staten Island which will burn 500 to 1,200 tons of garbage a day and of building a generating plant that would use garbage for as much as 50 per cent of its fuel.

The National Center for Resource Recovery reports New York City officials estimate that, if only 5,000 tons of their daily 30,000 tons of garbage could be burned, the annual fuel-oil savings would be 2 million barrels — not to mention solving the problem of where to put all the garbage each day.

The problem is facing more cities as they run out of sanitary landfill space. Incineration is not only more expensive, but also means air pollution problems which must be solved to meet new air-quality laws.

Furthermore, the experts contend there is far less air pollution from burned garbage than from most readily available oil and coal.

Today, this use of garbage is in its infancy, but the scientists and urban planners who have been studying it say it may be the only way to solve the garbage-disposal problem and provide alternate fuel necessary to ride out the energy crisis.

It is not the cheapest way to make steam. However, if oil and natural gas shortages grow as predicted, it is likely to become the cheapest way to heat cities, according to the National Center for Resource Recovery.

Resume sewer repairs

Work resumed Monday on the repair of sewer breaks caused by the 1973 flood. Jay Maurer, superintendent of streets at Venice, informed the Venice city council at a meeting Tuesday night.

Completion of repairs is expected in early spring. The city is making application this week to the federal Housing and Urban Development Agency (HUD), for approval of flood insurance coverage. If the request is approved, residents of Venice may purchase the insurance from any company licensed to write this type of coverage in Illinois.

The council set a new policy requiring all new full-time street department employees to pass a physical examination before they are employed. This has been the policy in the police and fire departments.

A report for the 1973 year submitted by the Fire Department said the department responded to a total of 120 calls. The calls included: dwellings, 28; industry, 31; commercial, 4; grass and rubbish, 11; cars and trucks, 17; out of town, 19; rescue, 6; garage and shed, two, and two false alarms.

Total estimated property fire loss for the 1973 year was $337,300 for other than railroad and industrial which was $32,689, a loss of $5 per capita. James L. Harrell, 99 Weaver St., was accepted as an additional policeman and will begin work on Jan. 16. With the addition of Harrell the city has a force of 15 full-time officers.

The McKinley Bridge report for December listed a total of 198,403 vehicular crossings, a daily average of 6,400.

BOOKS A design for destruction

ANTONIN RAYMOND: An Autobiography; Charles E. Tuttle; 336 pages; $27.50.

Reviewed By ROBERT BETTS

Designing buildings especially to have them destroyed was not an easy task for architect Antonin Raymond, despite the fact it was a valuable contribution to the U.S. war effort.

A question that came up in World War II was how most efficiently to destroy Japan's industrial capacity by bombing its factories and workers' housing. Knowledge of the prevailing Japanese architecture and methods of construction was practically nonexistent in the United States and Europe.

One Occidental who had expert knowledge, however, was Raymond. He had worked as a young architect in Tokyo and had been an ardent student of Japanese construction. The U.S. War Department called upon him to design structures on the Japanese pattern, which were then subjected to bombardment in the Utah Proving Ground. The idea was to make the bombs as small and light as possible so that a large number could be carried on each mission.

"It certainly was not an easy task for me and my wife to be instrumental in devising means of defeating Japan," Raymond relates in his autobiography. "In spite of my love for Japan, I came to the conclusion that the quickest way to terminate this war was to defeat Germany and Japan as quickly and as effectively as possible."

COLLEGE PLANNING SESSION Wednesday included this discussion. From the left are Dr. Clyde Washburn, dean of career-oriented programs; Dr. Warren Nieburg, dean of general studies, continuing education and community services; Dr. Wayne Clark, dean of instructional programs and services; A. J. Woods, dean of student services; and Dr. Gordon R. Stone, dean of baccalaureate-oriented programs, all of Belleville Area College. At far right is Edward Reiske, executive vice-president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce. (Press-Record Photo)

He returned to Japan after the war, resumed his career there, and witnessed the painful recovery from devastation by a people he had learned to admire and respect.

As this book reveals, Raymond was the first architect to synthesize traditional Japanese forms and ideas with the new design philosophy of the West.

Born in Bohemia (now Czechoslovakia), he emigrated to the United States in 1910. In 1919, he accompanied famous American architect Frank Lloyd Wright to Japan to assist in planning and building the Imperial Hotel in Tokyo. Later he started in practice there on his own.

Over the years, before and since World War II, Raymond revolutionized the arts of design and construction in Japan, and created many works which now rank as milestones of modern architecture.

Important examples of his work also are to be seen in many other countries, including the United States, India, Ireland and the Philippines.

The 37 color plates, 600 black and white illustrations and photographs, together with numerous sketches and plans included in this handsome volume display the Raymond style in many forms. Besides being a leading architect, he is an accomplished painter, sculptor and musician.

The accompanying text also reveals his talent as a descriptive, entertaining writer. It is the story of an eventful life touched by the central events of the century — intelligence officer in World War I, decorated by many governments, Czechoslovak consul in pre-World War II Tokyo, where he witnessed the great Kanto earthquake and its aftermath. There are fascinating sidelights on people prominent in the political, military and diplomatic worlds, and particularly in the world of art.

State chiefs to install Veizer

Ronald J. Veizer, Granite City chief of police, will be installed as president of the Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police at its annual convention, scheduled Jan. 26 through Jan. 28.

The public is invited to attend the installation banquet, set for 7 p.m. Monday, Jan. 26, at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn, St. Louis, site of the 1974 convention. An "attitude adjustment" hour will precede the dinner.

Principal speaker will be Illinois Lt. Gov. Neil F. Hartigan. Missouri Governor Christopher "Kit" Bond and St. Louis Mayor John Packer are among those invited to take part in the program.

Reservations and tickets, costing $10 each, may be obtained through Jan. 23 at the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, 1831 Delmar Ave., or by calling Edward F. Reiske, Chamber executive director, at 876-6400.

The after-dinner speaker will be followed with entertainment by a professional troupe, it was learned.

The banquet menu will include French onion soup, roast prime rib, baked potato, green beans, almondine and fresh strawberry shortcake.

Installed with Chief Veizer will be Merle Justus, Cahokia police chief, as third vice-president.

Prior to his election as president in July, Chief Veizer served as first vice-president of the state group. He will succeed Chief Clarence Erickson of Niles to the top post.

Seminars, business meetings and workshops will occupy the police chiefs during the annual conference. The 1974 convention will be officially hosted by the Southern Illinois Police Chiefs Association.

'Casino Night' for GCS Women

Several Granite City Steel Company officials served as "housemen" and "dealers" at "Casino Night," a fun evening of games staged in a Las Vegas setting by members of the Granite City Steel Women's Club.

The event was presented Tuesday night in the GCS General Office Building cafeteria.

Tables were illuminated with candles, inserted in wine bottles, and playing cards added colorful touches to the overall decor.

A punch party preceded the dinner hour at 6 o'clock. The group was welcomed by Mrs. Dorothy Rushing, club president, and Mrs. Dolores Allen, program chairman, introduced the company officials.

Gaming tables, at which play money was used, featured roulette, chuck-o-luck, over-and-under and black jack and were operated under "house" rules.

Acting as dealers were Paul M. Walter, John G. Quade, Frank E. Pugh, John W. Westhouse, George Pulanias and William B. Boto.

Among the players who received prizes were Louise Lakin, Helen Free, Mildred Clements, Louise Koester, Jene Lybarger, Helen Green, Virginia Buecker, Genelle May, Gladys McNish, Pat Martin, Jean Hermes and Betty Bucatch.

Also were won by Dolores Allen, Vivian Flaughter and Peggy Solberger.

In charge of arrangements were Mrs. Olga McMurtry, Miss Norma Prengel, Mrs. Koester, Mrs. Solberger, Mrs. Rushing and Mrs. Allen.

A birthday party theme is being planned for the Feb. 12 meeting, Mrs. Rushing said.

Amvets to meet Sunday in GC

Amvets of the 3rd Division will convene at 2 p.m. Sunday at Quad-City Amvets Post 51, located at 5100 Lakeview Drive.

Despite inclement weather, plans for the meeting are going ahead as scheduled, according to Adam Petras of Granite City, Division commander.

Mrs. Charlotte Danel of Granite City, Auxiliary 5th Division president, said today the women's organization will hold its annual "Crazy Auction" project during Sunday's meeting.

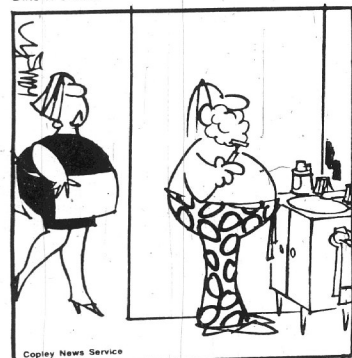

TAVERN IS LOOTED

About $100 in change from a juke box and 53 quarts of liquor were stolen from the Pub Lounge, 1308 Nineteenth St., the owner, Harold "Butch" Vaughn, reported at 12:25 a.m. Thursday. Authorities believe a customer may have hidden in the basement until after closing time and then looted the business.

TOOLS STOLEN

Tools worth more than $350, a pair of leather gloves and a lunch pail were stolen from the pickup truck of John Williams, 2911 Myrtle Ave., parked at his home, Williams reported at 4:35 p.m. Wednesday.

State's economic outlook is 'good'

Referring to predictions of continued economic trouble for the nation this year, Gov. Walker told Illinois legislators yesterday, "We in Illinois are more fortunate by comparison."

He continued, "It can be said that if the nation has the flu, then we in Illinois have a cold. There may be discomfort, but the prognosis is good for the patient's health."

Walker said that, despite a relatively favorable prospect for the Illinois economy, "the problems of the nation affect the condition of Illinois" and special efforts are required this year to deal with those problems.

The state will be stepping up efforts to expand Illinois industries, recruit foreign businesses, attract and hold onto jobs for Illinois residents, and increase farm production and international trade, Gov. Walker said.

He emphasized that the Illinois economy would be directly stimulated by acquiring a proposed federal coal research center.

We shall meet her some bright morning

Federation delegates will be representing 42,000 members in 98 county Homemakers Extension organizations. However, the meeting ending tomorrow is open to all members. Highlight will be observance of the 50th anniversary of the IHEF.

Special pageants and tableaux are planned in commemoration of the 50th year event. A banquet at the Illini Union will feature an address by Dr. John E. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rosenburg entertained members of the Butterfly Club, a social group, at a holiday party this week at their home, 2864 Cleveland Blvd.

A buffet dinner was served, and gifts were exchanged. The remainder of the evening was spent at cards.

Sewing series to begin

The Cooperative Extension Service, University of Illinois, will sponsor a series of six sewing classes for beginners at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, 21st Street and Cleveland Blvd.

The first session will be held Wednesday, Jan. 10, from 10 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. Each person is to bring a sack lunch, and coffee will be provided.

Arrangements may be made for child care. The only cost will be the individual's pattern and material, which may be purchased after the first session.

Sewing machines will be provided, but those with portable machines are urged to bring them after the first meeting. It is hoped that everyone will have a finished garment by the end of the course.

Members of the Madison County Homemakers Extension Association will be the instructors. The idea for a sewing class at St. Peter's came from a visitation program last summer by Tony Jacobs, a seminary student employed by the church for a community visitation program. He found persons wanting ways to develop their skills in areas that would benefit their family and home life. A committee of the Church Council began to seek ways to implement Jacobs' findings.

As a result, the pre-school at St. Peter's has begun a series of "Coffee Breaks for Parent Education" with regular discussions on child training and development.

A College and Career Fellowship which meets on the first and third Sunday evenings has been formed under the direction of Jacobs for all young men and women beyond high school age, either working or in school.

The sewing program is another of these developments. "We hope in the future," said the Rev. Robert Kettelhut, pastor, "to begin other areas of development for persons in the community—including work with widows and widowers, those beyond retirement age, young, and families where both parents work outside the home. "We are concerned that our church utilize its location and facilities even more to help individuals in the daily task of living productively and worthwhile lives in their homes and community."

For further information concerning the sewing class and other projects of the church, interested persons may call 877-1984, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Enrollment in the sewing class is limited and reservations are to be made in advance by calling the church.

Moonspinners plan classes

Classes in crocheting and knitting will be conducted from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 17 for members of the Moonspinners 4-H Club at the Namekoi United Presbyterian Church.

Plans for the simultaneous classes, to be taught by Mrs. Elizabeth Schmidt and Mrs. Deanna Ketcher, 4-H leaders, were reviewed at a meeting at the church. Members were urged to attend next week's session to start their projects for the current season.

Also discussed was attendance at a federation ice skating party at Wilson Park rink, scheduled from 7:30 to 10 p.m. today. Friends may be invited and the cost of admission is 75 cents for students and $1.25 for adults. Skate rental is 50 cents extra, leaders said.

Rhonda Ketcher, club president, was in charge of the business session and Susan Burnett, led the pledge of allegiance. Sherry Ketcher gave the 4-H pledge and roll call was taken by Maria Schmidt with members responding by naming their favorite color.

A demonstration relating to stitches used in crocheting was given by Sherry Ketcher, and Maria Schmidt reported on a caroling visit made by the club to the Colonial Haven Nursing Home.

The annual district junior 4-H leaders' weekend will be held at the Namekoi United Presbyterian Church, 1643 Lindell Blvd. Their other daughters are Pamela, 13, and Veronica Kay, 9.

Paterani grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Wagner, 1643 Lindell Blvd.

Prior to his enlistment three months ago, Pvt. Mayes was employed at Tony's Drive In, Madison.

Attend Wallace wedding in Ala. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rensing, 2134 Woodlawn Ave., have returned home after spending the past six weeks visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dick, of Dothan, Ala.

While away, the local couple accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Dick to the wedding of Miss Peggy Sue Wallace, daughter of Governor George Wallace of Alabama, to Mark Kennedy.

The ceremony was performed Dec. 15 at a Montgomery, Ala. church and was followed with a reception at the Governor's mansion.

Classical, contemporary and dance orchestras played at the reception, which overflowed from the mansion to a huge pink and white striped tent erected on the grounds. Mrs. Rensing said Hurricane lanterns illuminated a canopied walkway along the front drive.

Inside the slate dwelling, tiered fountains cascaded burgundy wine, and camelia entwined with magnolia leaves created the focal decorative arrangements, she said.

The Rensings were greeted personally by Gov. Wallace and his wife. Both are friends of the Dick family.

For early tax refund, file return in January

The Internal Revenue Service is getting ready to issue 60 million tax refunds, including about 10,000 to Southern and Central Illinois taxpayers. The problem is to get taxpayers started early enough to file for the refunds.

"Early enough," says Leon C. Green, district director of Internal Revenue, "means January. Taxpayers who file in January can usually expect faster service than those who file later."

The reason for the delay in issuing refunds to later filers, he explains, is that most taxpayers tend to put off doing their tax returns, with the result that work piles up at the Service Center where they are processed.

"It stands to reason," Green points out, "that our Kansas City Service Center can process returns and approve refunds much faster when workloads are light—as in January. It would be a good idea for anyone who would like an early refund to start getting his records together now."

Even taxpayers who are still waiting for their W-2 forms—or perhaps their interest or mortgage statements from their bank—ought to start getting their other records together now so that they can file as soon as the documents arrive, Green advises.

"It's your money," he says. "The law says you're entitled to it now, so why wait? Get your refund as soon as you can."

With bills for Christmas gifts arriving, many taxpayers agree. Interest on charge accounts adds up, but the money the IRS holds earns none.

In urging taxpayers to file in January, he refutes the common but erroneous belief that early returns are scrutinized more closely at IRS Service Centers because there is more time to devote to each individual return.

This line of thinking, the director says, leads these taxpayers to conclude incorrectly that early returns are more likely to be audited by the IRS than later ones.

"This just isn't so," he says. "No matter when you file your return—Jan. 1, March 1, April 15—your return undergoes the same processing at our Service Centers. We hire thousands of temporary employees each filing season and we train them to process all returns the same way."

The director also explains that, in auditing returns, the IRS currently uses what it calls a "Discriminant Function" (DIF) program to select returns for examination. Through the use of computers, all individual returns are classified by the same procedures.

Mathematical formulas are used to rank returns by error potential, and those having the highest probability of error are selected for audit.

"The point here," he adds, "is that returns are selected not by filing date but by the error potential, calculated by computer."

Speaking of error, Green says that late filers, in a hurry to fill out their returns, often make errors that cause refund delays. If over a taxpayer needed a good reason to file early, it's to avoid these thoughtless, last-minute errors that people make when they're strapped for time, he stresses.

"Many taxpayers who wait until late March or April fail to read the instructions completely—or they make an error in arithmetic."

Tax deadline for some is next Tuesday

Many Illinois citizens who do not have enough taxes withheld are required to pay their final federal income tax no later than next Tuesday, Jan. 15. Also due on Tuesday are amended estimates from taxpayers whose 1973 income changed substantially during the last quarter.

"Many taxpayers first met the requirements for filing a tax declaration during the last three months of 1973," reports Leon C. Green, IRS district director for Central and Southern Illinois.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Page 32 Thurs., Jan. 10, 1974

Some of these taxpayers forget to sign the return or attach their W-2 forms, he added; all of these things can delay a refund.

"Considering the fact that a taxpayer who files later in the tax season has to wait approximately eight weeks before receiving his refund, an error only compounds the problem and may add two or more weeks to the wait."

"So, for the taxpayer who is expecting a refund and wishes to get it as soon as possible, we strongly suggest that he file in January."

To help taxpayers file early, the director says the IRS is making a strong appeal to employers, banks and corporations to issue W-2 forms and other documents to taxpayers as soon as possible.

Green also has announced detailed plans for the 1974 federal income tax filing period.

"Our prime objective," he said, "is to give the taxpayer the quality service he deserves, by providing timely, accurate and courteous answers to his inquiries and solutions to his tax problems."

"To make it as convenient as possible, we are offering toll-free telephone service to taxpayers."

Green indicated that all a person has to do to contact an IRS representative is to dial the toll-free number, 800-252-2921. In the same manner he would place any long-distance call. This service is available Monday through Friday between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

During the filing period of Jan. 1 through April 15, daily walk-in service will be available at IRS offices located in Alton, Carbondale, Champaign, Danville, Decatur, East St. Louis, Galesburg, Mount Vernon, Peoria, Quincy and Springfield. These offices will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

In addition, assistance will be offered in the following cities one day each week: Belleville, Cairo, Centralia, Harrisburg, Herrin, Jacksonville, Litchfield, Macomb, Mattoon and Olney.

Taxpayers will be advised of the locations, dates and hours of free personal assistance available at these cities through news media.

All tax forms packages have been placed in the mail. Green stressed the importance of the tax package, for it contains the necessary forms and instructions, the toll-free telephone number and, most importantly, a personalized label which should be attached to the federal income tax return when it is filed.

According to Green, some of the significant changes in this year's tax forms are:

Dividends and interest may be reported on Form 1040A, which is simpler and easier to use. If amounts received, IRS will compute a taxpayer's tax liability regardless of the amount of income reported on Form 1040A.

On Schedule A, a separate listing for certain charitable contributions and medical expenses is no longer required. Scheduled R has been eliminated, since a detailed listing of dividends and interest is no longer required.

Revenue-sharing information has been "simplified" so that the taxpayer list the county in which he resides.

ACCIDENT VICTIM

Steve L. Marler, 24, of 2116 Jill Ave., was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital during the weekend for a neck injury received in an accident. He was released and is recovering.

not required, nor is an original Jan. 15 declaration required," IRS Publication 569, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," provides additional information. For a free copy, taxpayers may contact Forms, P.O. Box 1468, Springfield, Ill. 62705.

Taxpayers can designate $1 of their taxes to the Presidential Election Fund for $2 if a joint return by checking a box on Forms 1040 and 1040A. They also can designate an extra dollar this year if they failed to do so last year.

Press-Record Youth Focus

Big bands still a great sound

Even in the days when the big bands had the big sounds, it was tough going for all but the biggest names because of the tremendous overhead in handling a large group of musicians and the various attendants such as arrangers. Too bad, because it's still a great sound to listen and dance to—as RCA's "The Big Band Cavalcade Concert" illustrates. On the two-record LP are the combined talents of Margaret Whiting, Bob Crosby, Freddy Martin and Frankie Carle. It was recorded live on their recent nationwide tour.

The Carle side is superb. If age has slowed this pianist, it doesn't show. The clarity of touch and driving rhythm are still there on some Carle favorites, "Sunrise Serenade," "Carle Boogie," "Sweet Lorraine," "Peg o' My Heart" and "Hindustan."

Vocalist Whiting also comes through with a "now" sound on a roundup of old and new ballads, including some by her composer father, Martin records some of his old hits: "Tonight We Love," "Bumble Boogie" and "Carnegie." And Crosby dips back into the "Muskrat Ramble" and "At the Jazz Band Ball" for that Dixieland sound. The sound reproduction on the album is excellent, except for some solo fadeout trouble on one of the Crosby pieces.

Gladys Knight and The Pips, on Buddah Records' "Imagination," let you know that using their imagination is exactly how to put it. As the group delves from within, Miss Knight reaches out for your mind with her portrayal of love as it pertains to music. It's most evident that on the whole this new LP presents a different kind of melancholy mood with its positive composition of arranged music. The superb string and horn arrangements actually serve to accentuate the emotions of the group's presentation of songs ranging from "Midnight Train" to "Georgia." With an effort to guide the mind to serenity this production by Tony Camillo is a noticed breakthrough in a soul easy listening.

Blue Note has pianist Les McCann out with a two-record LP called "Fish This Week." And it is good, solid music. None of the electronic glops and keeps that come disguised as inspiration. McCann is an innovator in music, not electronics. A pianist with a driving rhythm, McCann wrote all but one of the thirteen compositions on this LP, and they disclose a composer of brilliance. McCann is supported on most of the pieces by Leroy Vinnegar on bass and Ron Jefferson on drums. If McCann's "The Shampoo" doesn't move you, you're dead.

+++

The records continue to pour forth in the Rachmaninoff centennial collection. The composer also was a superb pianist and he lovingly adapted the music of others to his own interpretation. A great creator of musical color, Rachmaninoff had trouble with form, and his adoration of Liszt, coupled with that difficulty, RCA now is out with an LP in which Jorgi Bolet plays "Great Rachmaninoff Transcriptions." Selections range from Rachmaninoff's version of Kreisler's "Liebesleid," the minuet from Bizet's "L'Arlésienne," Suite No. 1, and the scherzo from Mendelssohn's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," to the prelude from Bach's "Violin Partita No. 3 in E." Bolet merges his technique beautifully with the mood of the Rachmaninoff interpretations.

Doc Severinsen's latest LP for RCA is called "Rhapsody For Now" but there is a lot of the old in it, too. Such as a "Rhapsody For Then" section which includes such "old" tunes as "The Look of Love" (1964). And a swinging tribute to the late Louis Armstrong, wherein Doc recaptures the sound of his old hero. Doc's still at the top of his form on this easy-to-listen-to album.

+++

RCA's two-record set of that evergreen operatic favorite, "Tosca," with soprano Leontyne Price as Tosca and Placido Domingo (tenor) and Sherrill Milnes (baritone) is a milestone in the history of Puccini's classic. "Tosca" premiered in 1900 and has stood well the test of the years. Leontyne Price's warm reading of the role adds new depth to the story—a melodrama about an opera star of the early 1800s, and the libretto which Puccini helped even a novice follow the story line. Recorded in London, the quality of the performances is uniformly excellent with Zubin Mehta, the New Philharmonia Orchestra and the John Alldis Choir.

DDT replaced in state by less long-lasting but more toxic insecticides

If wind-howling winter days when the snow lies deep are the best time to study the insecticide catalogues and plan next summer's garden, it stands to reason that the same blustery days are the appropriate time to consider what chemicals to use on the bugs and the diseases in that same garden.

The Environmental Health Resource Center, an agency of the Illinois Institute for Environmental Quality, has compiled a fact sheet on the dangers, and the proper care and handling, of the increasingly used organophosphate insecticides.

The resource center, headed by Dr. Bertram W. Carrow, has found that use of the previously popular organochlorines has steadily declined since 1945. Because of the lingering nature of these chemicals as DDT, their deadliness to species other than those under attack, and the fact that they seem to be losing some effectiveness toward the target organisms they are being increasingly replaced by the organophosphates.

In 1969, organophosphates were applied to nearly 18 per cent of the 7,380,000 Illinois farm acres which were treated with insecticides.

Two years later, in 1971, the percentage had grown to 24.6 per cent of the treated acreage. The EHRC notes, however, that while the organophosphates do not linger as long after application, they are generally considered to be much more toxic both to man and insect.

In man, they cause disruption of the nervous system, which may be doubly dangerous because the symptoms are not immediately obvious in many cases.

Since the user sees no adverse effects after using the product, he may continue to expose himself to the product repeatedly before the symptoms appear.

Particularly vulnerable are persons with respiratory ailments, some liver malfunctions, those allergic to the compounds, and children. Many of the organophosphates, such as Abate, malathion and Dursban, also are used in public health areas and in home and garden products.

Commercial pesticide applicators must be certified in Illinois, but this covers less than 3 per cent of the total farm acreage affected by insecticides.

As a result, farmers and householders who are not properly aware of the danger may be overexposed. Children, especially, may accidentally ingest the products.

In 1972, there were 465 pesticide child poisoning accidents reported in Illinois, with one death. Of these, 12 of 110 were traced to identifiable phosphate ingestion or exposure.

The EHRC's publication is available on request from the Institute for Environmental Quality, 309 W. Washington St., Chicago, Ill. 60606. Besides publishing the brochure, the EHRC has recommended that conspicuous warnings should be clearly placed on product labels, showing the need for safe storage and proper handling and disposal, particularly where large scale use is involved.

The resource center also recommends that a system for evaluating pesticides on a basis of effectiveness, human safety and non-target effects are devised.

On the basis of this information, use could be limited to only the safest one in each instance, it is contended. Development of new organophosphates or other less toxic insecticides for home use also is urged, as well as establishment of air, water and food monitoring for organophosphates.

Farmers and house holders should be educated to the hazards of insecticides, the EHRC suggests, adding that training similar to that now available to custom sprayers might be appropriate.

A total of $52,117 in state income tax funds has been distributed to the four communities of the Quad-City area for November, according to the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs at Springfield.

The allocations included $38,555 to Granite City, $6,690 to Madison, $4,446 to Venice, and $2,425 to Pontoon Beach.

In addition, the Madison County government received $20,998. Total allotments to 36 municipalities of Madison County including those of the Quad-City area, amounted to $107,710.

The November distribution brought to $145,732 the total amount of income tax allotments received by Granite City during the first five months of the current fiscal year (since July 1, 1973). During that period, Madison has received $25,224, Venice $16,763 and Pontoon Beach $8,768.

58 take eye screenings

Fifty-eight persons in Pontoon Beach passed through the Mobile Glaucoma Screening Unit sponsored jointly by the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness and the Pontoon Beach Lions Club. Three of these people had elevated eye pressure and were referred to eye doctors for complete examination and possible treatment, according to David Moss, Lions Club president.

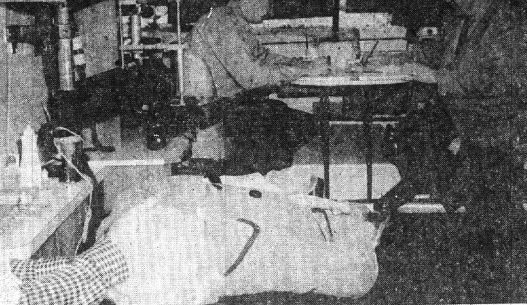

The Mobile Unit screening was part of the joint effort by the Illinois Society and Lions Clubs throughout Illinois to make it convenient for Illinois citizens to quickly take a test for this disease, which may cause serious loss of vision in its victims if left untreated. Persons over 35 years of age are most likely to have the disease. With an aging population steadily on the increase, more people are found to have glaucoma each year, according to officials of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

This screening raised the total number of people treated for glaucoma in Illinois since 1969 to well over 160,000. About two thousand of these have been found to have glaucoma in various stages of the disease, and as a result have been able to undergo the treatment necessary to halt progress of the disease and preserve sight. The Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness is a non-profit organization that relies on the contributions of individuals and businesses. It is recognized by the Internal Revenue Service as a tax exempt group, contributions to which are deductible for income tax purposes.

Those wishing to become members and support its work, or to receive literature telling about eye safety and prevention of blindness, should write to: Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, 220 South State Street, Chicago, Ill. 60604.

Energy-related recession would put state in 'red'

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

The need for early action on a speed limit law is probably only a portion of a whole array of new problems to be thrust on the Illinois legislature because of the energy crisis.

Already there has been talk that the brief session originally planned for this week might be lengthened.

The lawmakers will be able to go home after this flurry of activity, but when they come back to Springfield after the March 19 primary the workload is likely to be enormous. Many lawmakers are already approaching this election year with a shudder. A business recession with a sharp rise in unemployment could send the 1974 budget soaring far above the State House Dome.

Illinois had been spending about $2 billion a year for welfare even in a period of virtually full employment. For months, the state has had one of the lowest unemployment rates of any major state, running from two to three per cent.

But energy-related cutbacks in housing and construction, automobile industry, trucking, gas and auto related fields are certain to catch up with us before long.

When they do, the bill for general assistance and aid for those temporarily out of work must inevitably zoom. The state is already at the limit of its existing revenue sources.

Can a stiff tax increase be avoided? It would be a last resort, especially in an election year, but lawmakers and administration budget planners have their fingers crossed. National economy as well as the state's will take the decision out of their hands. What about highway building, a big prop to the Downstate economy? Will the gasoline, cement, steel and other supplies — needed in vast quantities to keep the construction going — be available?

Adequate enforcement of the new 55 miles-per-hour speed limit may require expanding the state police.

Should gasoline rationing become a reality, the state might have to set up some kind of state agency of its own to supplement the federal operation.

After the legislative action on the speed limit bill, legislative leaders and Gov. Daniel Walker will probably opt for a full recess until March to see how the overall situation develops.

The 1974 budget already looms as a massive headache. Developments far beyond Illinois' borders may well make it even worse.

Contract for weed control

Contracts totaling $12.2 million for road improvement and maintenance projects have been awarded, the Illinois Department of Transportation announced Monday afternoon.

The total dollar value is for 17 projects on which bids were submitted during the Oct. 30 and Dec. 11 bid lettings.

The only project in this region is the award of a $2,800 contract to The Dalton, Inc., Warsaw, Ind., for weed control spraying on various routes in Madison and St. Clair Counties.

500 seek 17 state school board posts

By RAY SERATI
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

Appointments to Illinois' new State Board of Education will probably come in the spring.

Gov. Daniel Walker was to have named 17 members by Jan. 1, the date set by law. However, the governor asked the legislative leaders for an extension of time and this has been granted.

Apparently the delay was sought by a special screening committee formed last fall by Walker to search out candidates for the board.

In all, the committee, headed by Robert E. Brooker, will forward 51 names to Walker as possible appointments. The governor then will select the 17 members who will make up the board.

The board appointments must be confirmed by the Illinois Senate. If the appointments are not made until the spring, it could delay the needed confirmations by the Senate.

By that time, the legislature will be embroiled in the annual fight over the budget for the upcoming fiscal year.

The Senate, which is controlled by the Republicans, is expected to take a long look at the nominees, just as it did on several of Walker's appointments last year, when several appointments were turned down.

This could happen to the board because of the usual crash of legislative business, some appointees might not get confirmed.

The first big assignment for the new board will be the selection of new state school superintendent. The post will no longer be a statewide elective post.

The present superintendent, Michael Bakalis, is the last elective state school superintendent, chosen in 1970. This is the last year of the four-year term to which he was elected.

Whether or not he will be considered for the post can't be determined until the makeup of the board is completed.

Dr. Bakalis, who was on the staff of Northern Illinois University at DeKalb when he was elected, does carry many qualifications, but extensive opposition to him has developed.

The board, when it is formed, will probably name a new superintendent by the fall, just about when schools open for a new school term. How many applicants will be considered for the top spot also will have to wait until the board is finalized. There undoubtedly will be a great deal of interest in the superintendent post, especially if the amount of interest in the board is any kind of barometer. Screening committee officials say they have received nearly 500 inquiries about the possibility of serving on the board, and this will probably run higher.

Recoveries for taxpayers by Scott in '73 include $1.6 million in Powell assets

In a year-end report, Attorney General William J. Scott said this week that Illinois taxpayers recovered more than $42.6 million during 1973 from a series of key tax victories, antitrust price-fixing settlements and 32,000 individual consumer cases.

Scott said the record also shows that his office earned $10 in general revenue for each $1 spent on the administration of his office.

TAX LOOPHOLES.

In three major tax cases during 1973, Scott said, his office won $3.3 million for the state's General Revenue fund and closed existing tax loopholes.

1. Storage and withdrawal of aviation fuel for the major airlines using Chicago's O'Hare airport, an $18 million dollar victory in the U.S. Supreme Court, with a $25 million dollar total recovery anticipated.

2. Imposition of the Illinois Use Tax on purchase of railroad diesel fuel and commuter cars (Burlington Northern Railroad the State General Revenue fund).

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Page 38 Thurs., Jan. 10, 1974

CONSUMER BATTLE.

Scott reports that through the statewide efforts of his Consumer Fraud and Protection Division, Illinois consumers were saved more than $5 million in 1973 alone.

In offices reaching from Southern Illinois to Chicago and 11 suburban branches, the division handled 32,000 complaints and filed 108 lawsuits to halt fraudulent or deceptive practices against the public.

In a cost-cutting and "partnership" experiment, Scott opened branch consumer outlets in Chambers of Commerce offices in Joliet, Alton and soon in Danville.

PHONE RATE SQUABO.

In a direct action reaching to all consumer levels in 1973, Scott opposed Illinois Bell Telephone's appeal for an additional $13.75 million rate increase in the Illinois Supreme Court.

Like the Independent Voters and others, Scott felt it was "not right to ask phone subscribers to pay for private club memberships for telephone company officials, charitable contributions and other expenses which were included in the rate request" and would have been passed on to the phone company.

NEW CONSUMER LAW.

Consumers won a major victory in 1973, Scott said, with passage of the "Little Federal Trade Commission" bill, which the attorney general sponsored.

Illinois can now adopt findings of the Federal Trade Commission and, for the first time, deal effectively with virtually all levels of deceptive sales practices, including "pyramid" sales schemes.

A related bill, drafted by Scott's consumer division, is now law and requires full disclosure of information on all franchise sales in Illinois.

PRICE-FIXING.

Scott's special report contains a special disclosure: A major new emphasis on financial crimes against the public and the state.

As a result, Scott said, 1973 was a "heavy impact" year in the antitrust sector of price fixing and market manipulation.

In one class action suit, five major manufacturers of the wonder-drug, Tetraeycline, repaid $4,500,000 in overcharges to the State of Illinois, 67 public hospitals throughout the state and 555 individual consumers.

In January 1973, the Illinois Supreme Court gave Scott a victory in sustaining the total threat of the Illinois Antitrust Act, which was contested by a group of Central Illinois beer distributors under fire from Scott's office for alleged price fixing.

Two months later, a Sangamon County grand jury indicted 10 construction firms, two trade union officials and two trade associations for bid-rigging on public and private building projects in the Springfield area.

Then came a $1.8 million victory for Chicago-area coal buyers in a pricing case brought by Scott in the federal court against major oil suppliers in Cook County.

Twenty firms agreed to pay $1.3 million in cash and $500,000 in credits for future coal purchases.

As 1973 drew to an end, Scott's antitrust division again moved Downstate and filed suit for damages against 14 highway construction firms involved in the building of Interstate Highway 74 across Illinois.

"FRAUD OF THE CENTURY."

"Still sharply focused on 'white collar crime,'" Scott launched in 1973 a multi-count grand jury probe of the Family Funding Life Insurance Co., Elmhurst, in which computers were allegedly used to falsify information to defraud investors and other insurance firms of millions of dollars.

Scott said 25 individuals are under indictment and more grand jury action is scheduled to delve further into "massive fraud" involving the Illinois-based firm.

PENSION RAIDS BLOCKED.

For thousands of Illinois workers and retirees, 1973 was an important year.

When the Elgin National Industries, Inc., now located out of state, attempted to remove the pension fund of the old Elgin Watch Co. from Illinois and leave former employees without their earned retirement benefits, Attorney General Scott filed suit and won $5.5 million for former Elgin Watch-makers.

Included was an 18 per cent pension hike monthly for 1,000 former employees now on pensions.

Similarly, Scott interceded in behalf of Armstrong Paint and Varnish Works employees and helped them file claims for $800,000 in employee benefits, which lay dormant in a fund created in 1953.

At the statewide level, Scott worked out a settlement to require the state to fund the Teachers' Retirement System in Illinois.

The Court of Claims agreed with Scott and issued a declaratory judgment holding that the present teacher pension funds were not funded pursuant to Illinois law and the new state Constitution. The governor, however, rejected the plan, which was based on "catch-up" payments over a 40-year period, Scott said.

ENVIRONMENT EFFORT.

On a day-to-day basis, Scott's year-end report notes that his office has handled nearly 1,300 enforcement variance and permit denial cases before the Illinois Pollution Control Board, as well as appeals to all Illinois court levels up to the Supreme Court.

Major environmental turn-arounds during 1973 included the commitment of Quincy's huge Celotex box factory to end the discharge of 4,000,000 gallons of pollutants a day into the Mississippi river and, at the other edge of the state, the agreement of the Flintkote roofing material plant at Mt. Carmel to totally recycle all wastes discharged into the Wabash River.

At still other levels, Scott filed suit against the federal government to require the sprawling Joliet Army Arsenal to conform to Illinois pollution control standards.

Reaching into other states, Scott won consent orders in federal court to require the cities of Racine and Kenosha, Wis., to halt discharge of contaminants into Lake Michigan. Those actions backed up Scott's suit against the City of Milwaukee.

The U. S. Supreme Court ruled historically in that case that Illinois has a common law right to seek relief against out-of-state polluters.

At the conservation level, Scott joined with the National Audubon Society and other conservationists in opposing a federal project to reclaim 200,000 acres of prime waterfowl wintering grounds in Arkansas.

Scott advised the U. S. District Court for Eastern Arkansas that the federal project would drastically alter flight patterns and migratory habits of the Illinois birds and upset years of conservation efforts in this state.

The Illinois environmental effort thus was widened well beyond the reach of day-to-day enforcement actions.

INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS.

As attorney general, Scott is charged with the protection of individual or civil rights of all Illinois citizens.

Toward that end, he sent an investigative team to Texas in mid-1973 to determine the conditions of state wards placed in Texas child-care centers.

Because of reported abuses, Illinois was preparing to issue blanket orders to return all the youngsters to Illinois.

Scott's investigation found, however, that many of the children did not want to return to shattered Illinois homes or state institutions, so Scott advised the Illinois officials to recognize the individual rights of each youngster and "go slow" with any blanket removal orders.

One teenage girl, for example, had been in eight Illinois institutions, was deeply troubled and suicidal before her placement in Texas.

As attorney general, Scott is charged with the protection of individual or civil rights of all Illinois citizens.

the first time in her life, felt security and emotional stability.

Illinois officials heeded Scott's advice. This girl and others were allowed to remain in the Texas care centers.

ETHICS DISCLOSURE.

Though not a requirement of office or law, in 1973 Attorney General Scott made full, voluntary disclosure of all campaign fund sources and expenses relating to his reelection in 1972.

Scott and Comptroller George Lindberg are the only two elected state officials to have done so, he noted.

Though such disclosure legislation stalled in the 1973 General Assembly session, Scott felt his own voluntary disclosure was purposeful "to inform the public and to encourage other public officials to report fully and factually on their election campaigns."

Small Claims Court quick, cheap

You would like to collect that "little old debt" somebody owes to you if it didn't cost too much to take the issue to court?

If so, you'll be interested to hear about the Small Claims Court, the law's way of handling disputes in which the amount at stake is not more than $1,000, exclusive of any costs or interest which may be due.

The Illinois State Bar Association reports that many people would probably be making use of Small Claims Court in the future.

Gasoline outlook cuts sale of standard cars using frames made here

By PAUL H. KELLY
Plant Manager
A. O. Smith Corporation

As the demand for new automobiles during 1973 continued at an unprecedented pace, A. O. Smith's Granite City plant benefited accordingly with record shipments.

The resulting in-flow of sales dollars enabled us to pay approximately three-quarters of a million dollars in state and local taxes, to meet a 1973 payroll in excess of $14 million, and to purchase $22½ million of locally produced steel.

These direct benefits to the Granite City community were made possible not only because of the unusual amount of frame business available, but because our employees—labor and management alike—had demonstrated their ability to produce quality products and to meet their production schedules in a dependable manner.

However, there are some unfortunate circumstances occurring which are beyond our control and which affect our operations.

Just as the energy crisis has brought new problems to our lives at home, it has brought serious concerns into the operation of our factory.

By curtailing our use of natural gas, propane and electricity, and with the co-operation of our employees, we have managed to stretch available supplies and have continued normal operations.

However, a combination of bad weather this winter and further restriction of fuel could force us to shut down for limited periods.

Perhaps even more serious, however, is the effect which rising gasoline prices and rationing may have on the market for standard-size automobiles which use the type of frame produced here at Granite City.

At the present time, we have been forced to shut down most of our production operations temporarily because of changes in our customer's shipping schedule.

However, while we expect reduced sales, we don't know by what amount—and we certainly expect the automobile to remain this country's most important form of transportation for many years to come.

We are hopeful that we can resume operations as planned on Jan. 21 and that the effect of the energy crisis on our employees can be minimized.

Just as our nation and community must be willing to make some adjustments if we are to prosper in 1974, we, too, must do the same.

Resourcefulness has always been an American trademark, and we are confident that our resourcefulness will see us through this uncertain period.

F-15, DC-10, computers help give McDonnell Douglas bright outlook

By SANFORD N. McDONNELL

President,
McDonnell Douglas Corporation

McDonnell Douglas Corporation fared well in 1972 as our major lines of business in a well-balanced diversity of proven products performed as expected.

Sales and earnings for the year just ended are expected to be higher than 1972, which was the second highest earnings year in history.

Two St. Louis-based programs—the F-4 Phantom and the F-15 Eagle—contributed substantially to the overall success of our company in 1972.

The F-15 Eagle has completed more than 1,200 test flights without a serious incident and with no significant air frame problems uncovered.

The air superiority fighter being developed for the U.S. Air Force has met on or ahead of schedule each of its first 16 milestones.

Compared to previous fighter aircraft, the F-15 has maintained a significantly higher flight rate during its test program.

Full production funding for fiscal year 1973 procurement of the first 30 F-15 production aircraft was authorized on Oct. 17 by Deputy Defense Secretary William P. Clements Jr., after the Pratt & Whitney F-100 engine successfully completed its 150-hour endurance qualification test on Oct. 12.

Funding had been on a month-to-month basis since April 15, pending the outcome of this test.

Production of the F-4 Phantom continued at an accelerating rate during 1973.

primarily to meet the delivery schedules for several foreign allied nations, notably the Federal Republic of Germany.

Production of the Phantom, which continues to be the world's premier air defense aircraft, will remain at higher levels than recent years, with the various models of the DC-10 tri-jet airliners.

Nineteen seventy-three was the year of Skylab, America's first manned space station has been an unqualified success, reaping a rich harvest of scientific data that has exceeded all expectations.

When the third and final crew returns to earth, the nine Skylab astronauts will have accumulated enough data during their total of nearly six months in space to expand man's knowledge of the Earth's resources by a quantum leap forward.

From the first two missions already completed, more than 20,000 photographs of the earth and 25 miles of computer tape will be undergoing extensive analysis by 137 principal investigators and their staffs in the United States and 18 foreign countries.

These research projects may take up to 18 months, as scientists develop sophisticated techniques to use photographic and electronic data provided by Skylab's remote-sensing experiments.

Included in the surveys were research projects in geology that could lead to the discovery of potential new sources of oil and essential minerals.

As our present energy crisis threatens to become more acute, the earth resources observations made aboard Skylab could lead to serendipitous discoveries in the years ahead.

And yet, as the United States ends its exciting years of space exploration and transitions from exploration to concentration on applications, the future of the U.S. space effort is clouded and uncertain.

Sharp cutbacks have been made in the space program and the public appears apathetic, despite the long list of spectacular successes and benefits from the past 15 years.

Space-developed technologies and materials have been applied to every aspect of our lives, from the medical sciences and surgery techniques to transportation.

Very seldom does the public associate NASA's National Aeronautics and Space Administration research in optically ground plastics with contact lenses, heat shield re-entry materials with dental fillings, space suite design with perma-press.

The simple fact is that applications of space technology and manufacturing techniques to commercial products have been consistent contributors to the economic health of the nation.

In recent hearings before the Senate Committee on Aeronautical and Space Sciences, I summarized my remarks as follows:

"In the past, our space effort has been a major contributor to the attainment of our national goals. It has provided thousands of jobs.

It has been a strong financial stimulant for the expansion of our university system.

It has promoted world peace by giving us a method of communication through which different cultures have a chance to examine and understand each other.

It has provided a common worldwide challenge to the scientific community and has become a basis for technological dialogue among nations. It has given pride to Americans and has produced numerous benefits to man."

The knowledge of earth gained from Skylab and other earth resources studies will help the world better feed, clothe and see itself as a single entity.

But the past investment in space exploration must be maintained if we are to reap the benefits of that exploration. The list of potential space applications is a lengthy one.

Commercial aircraft production, which accounts for a significant portion of our sales, continues in the tradition of the DC series of aircraft, dating from the early 1960s when the age of air travel was ushered in by these pioneer transports.

Twelve additional airlines took delivery of the DC-10 during 1972, bringing to 22 the number of airline users.

Seven more airlines will put the DC-10 in service in 1974.

Of significance in the face of the fuel shortage now at hand is the fact that the DC-10 is the most efficient aircraft now in service, based on Civil Aeronautics Board figures for fuel consumption.

The DC-10's low noise levels and smokeless engines also favor passengers and environmentalists alike.

A pleasant surprise this past year was the extraordinary high level of orders for the DC-9—fifty per cent higher than the two previous years combined.

The latest model—the DC-9-50, announced during the year—will be larger. It will offer improvements in operating efficiency, passenger comfort and environmental characteristics.

Sales of commercial aircraft to overseas airlines were a significant factor in pushing our company's export sales in 1973 over the $1 billion mark.

The Harpoon anti-ship missile moved toward the production phase during 1973 with the same on-schedule performance that has marked the St. Louis-based project since contract award 30 months ago. Pilot production go-ahead is scheduled for July 1974.

McDonnell Douglas Automation Company (MCAUTO) expanded its services and facilities significantly during the year.

MCAUTO provided data processing service to nearly 2,000 clients, including 37 of the largest 50 industrial firms in the U.S.

It currently has commercial offices in 29 cities, including Tokyo, Japan, and employs over 3,200 personnel.

The company has 89 computers, valued at $140 million, in its five major computer centers.

Clients process data from more than 3,200 terminals located in their offices via telephone lines of 14 of MCAUTO's large-scale computers.

Several insurance companies, including General American Life Insurance Company of St. Louis, began using MCAUTO's Medicare system to handle claims processing. Each day, MCAUTO's computers process over 4,000 claims for Medicare payment for General American.

The company's Hospital Service Division now provides financial and health care data processing for 186 hospitals in 30 states, including 14 hospitals in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Recently, MCAUTO has been actively marketing a wide variety of its data processing capabilities to help alleviate the national energy crisis.

Its computers and programs can be used to assist in the design and construction of new power plants and pipelines, and in the handling of petrochemical products.

Ask the Governor

Q. I am writing to you today to ask that you direct your attention to another dire situation now facing the American Farmer.

I find that I am unable to purchase dicalcium phosphate for feeding my hogs. It is impossible to continue to produce pork profitably for our tables without this feed ingredient.

I am told by my suppliers that some of the factories have been selling only to foreign markets for tremendous prices. An additional amount is being used in the production of fertilizer for corn which could be produced without it.

Any help you could give me in getting some straight answers will be deeply appreciated.

Animals cannot go without feed any more than people can go without food—Joseph R. Edwards, Princeton.

A: Thank you for your letter concerning the shortage of dicalcium phosphate feed additive.

I am aware of the situation, and have instructed the Department of Agriculture to investigate and keep me informed.

Two major factors seem to have led to the shortage. Borden's which supplies more than 50% of Illinois' dicalcium phosphate needs, was shut down for more than 100 workdays last fall and has just recently resumed production. In addition to this, a number of dicalcium phosphate plants have closed because, in previous years, the price of the product was so low that it proved unprofitable to continue production.

Producers were also faced this year with fuel shortages, strikes, transportation difficulties and power-outages.

Although the influence of state government is limited, we are strongly urging the federal government to take the necessary steps to insure that domestic demands be met and have sent letters to the U. S. Department of Agriculture asking for their help.

We will continue to do whatever we can to make sure dicalcium phosphate is available to Illinois farmers who provide much of the base of this state's economy.

Committee appointed to plan new town building

Membership of a seven-man committee to plan and supervise financing for construction of a Granite City Township building was approved by the City Council Monday night while sitting as the Town Board.

The committee membership was recommended by Granite City Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer who announced plans to erect a township building in September. Decision to proceed with construction planning followed conferences between Hagnauer and Mayor Paul Schuler.

The committee as recommended by Hagnauer and confirmed unanimously by council members includes Schuler, Hagnauer, Aldermen Clyde Boyd and Claude Green, Arthur Griffin, business representative of Laborers Union Local 397, Tully Hübner, director of buildings and grounds of Granite City School District 9, and William W. Schooley, township attorney.

The committee's first primary objective will be to select and acquire a site for the proposed structure. Hagnauer said the building should be located within close proximity to the downtown area, but not immediately within the business district.

Once a site is purchased, preparation of detailed construction plans will be made.

Hagnauer said the township building will include recreational and meeting facilities for senior citizens and relief clients as well as township administration offices.

The building will be financed with federal revenue sharing funds. The town board has approved a budget of $23,042 for the building work.

The council, acting as the Town Board, also approved bills of $2,062, payable out of the town fund, and bills of $2,578, payable out of the general assistance fund.

Other action included approval of bills totaling $7,700 to be paid out of revenue sharing funds.

New book on slavic history

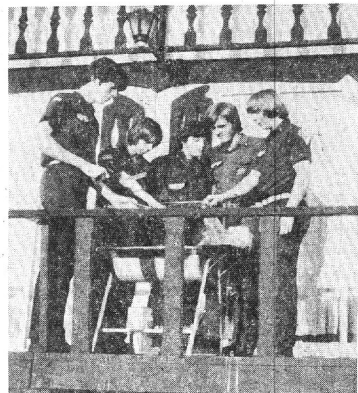

Stanley B. Kimball, professor of history at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is the author of a monograph on central European history published by the American Philosophical Society.

"The Austro-Slav Revival: A Study of Nineteenth Century Literary Foundations," took Kimball six years to prepare. It is based on archival research conducted in several European countries.

The book focuses on Slavic peoples (Serbs, Czechs, Croats, Slovaks and Slovenes), dominated throughout the nineteenth century by the Austrian empire.

"During the Slav renaissance, philology and history were used as major weapons by the national leaders," Kimball wrote in the preface to his book, "and almost all literary and scholarly societies had political overtones."

A specialist in Slavic history, Kimball earned his doctorate at License plate deadline near

More than one million 1974 Illinois passenger auto licenses have been mailed from Springfield, Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett has reported. "This total includes all reassignments which were received by the Sept. 30 deadline," Howlett said.

"We are also processing all other license mail orders received in Springfield," he added.

With the deadline for displaying 1974 plates extended until Feb. 15, heavy over-the-counter sales are expected at the Secretary of State's three facilities in Chicago and at the Secretary of State's office in Springfield.

New license plates also are available at 291 banks throughout Illinois as well as 600 currency exchanges in the Chicago area. Close to two million 1974 licenses were sold at Illinois banks. More sales are expected for 1974 plates, with 85 more banks in the program.

Howlett said currency exchanges sold about a half-million plates in 1973 and he anticipates increased sales this year.

"The Secretary of State's office expects to issue close to 4,750,000 passenger licenses for 1974," Howlett estimated. "All applications mailed to Springfield should be sent before Jan. 15 to guarantee arrival by Feb. 15."
